GANGSTER SLAIN IN A GAMING PLACE AT VENICE, ILL.

Man Shot at 5 A. M. by Janitor, Who Says He Was Fired On, Identified by St. Louis Detectives as John P. Joyce, Member of "Cuckoo."

SLAYER RELEASED BY VENICE POLICE

He Says Shots Were Fired Through Partition When He Was Looking for Coat After an Inquiry by Telephone.

The body of a man who was shot and killed at 5 a. m. today in a gambling house in Venice, Ill., by George Buzik, former Venice policeman and watchman at the place, was identified this afternoon by Detectives Roach and Kinzer of St. Louis as that of John Joyce, 30 years old, member of the "Cuckoo Gang" of police characters.

Buzik said that the man identified as Joyce had broken into the place through a rear door and had fired two shots at him before he returned the fire. Buzik's version of the killing was accepted by Chief of Police Clifford and he was not held.

Awakened by Telephone.
The police reported that Buzik related that he was awakened by the telephone bell at 5 a. m. and that a man's voice asked him to look for a gray cravenette coat that had been left there the night before. As Buzik started to look for the coat he heard the crash of glass in a rear room and when he demanded to know who was there two shots were fired at him through a partition. Buzik returned the fire and telephoned the police.

When the police arrived they found a man dead from a bullet wound above the heart in a hallway leading from the rear door, the glass of which had been broken so that it could be opened from the outside. The man wore a gray cravenette coat, brown fedora hat, tan shoes and blue suit with pencil stripes. His ring was engraved, "J. P. J." and cut buttons, "J. J."

An air of mystery was thrown about the killing by everyone with whom reporters came in contact, even the police being reluctant to disclose the address of the house where the killing occurred.

Arrested Many Times Here.
Detectives Kinzer and Roach viewed the body in an undertaking establishment at Madison.

Joyce had been arrested many times in this city during various years of robberies. He was arrested last Monday in an investigation of the White Hardware Co. burglary, in which a companion of his, Roy Tipton, has been identified as one of the thieves.

Thousands of persons at Danville Depot to Greet Him.
DANVILLE, Ill., March 9.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon returned to Danville late this afternoon, a private citizen after a half century of public life, 46 of which were as Congressman of this district. Thousands of persons gathered at the depot where he was met by members of the Vermillion County Bar Association and the Chamber of Commerce and escorted to his home. He was very tired and after a short speech from the steps of his home went to bed for a rest of several hours. Plans for a monster reception were abandoned several days ago at the request of Cannon.

Roald Amundsen, head of the Arctic exploration expedition that left Seattle June 3 last, in the schooner Maud, will hop off June 21 from Wainwright, Alaska, for a flight over the North Pole, according to a letter received here from him by Capt. John Backlund, owner and master of the schooner M. S. Holmes. The sun at that time, explained the letter, will be diffusing perpetually day over the region within the Arctic circle. It is hoped also that a south wind will prevail. The letter, written in Nome, Alaska, where Capt. Amundsen has been wintering, back to Wainwright, where Lieut. Oskar Omdal, aviator, who is to pilot the plane over the pole, has been caring for the machine since it was landed there last fall.

TOTAL PRIMARY VOTE OF LESS THAN 40,000 INDICATED

Estimates of Election Officials Based on Canvass of One Precinct in Each Ward This Afternoon.

REPUBLICAN BALLOTS CALLED FOR CHIEFLY

Little Indication That Democrats Are Participating in the Choice of G. O. P. Candidates.

One of the lightest votes in years is being cast in today's city primary for nomination of candidates for the presidency and of 14 memberships in the Board of Aldermen. A telephone canvass of one precinct in each of the 28 wards at 2 p. m. showed a vote of 6 per cent of the registration in those precincts. The polls will remain open until 7 p. m.

Members of the Election Board called the canvass indicated that a total vote of less than 40,000 would be cast. In the 1919 Aldermanic primary of 1919, 48,000 votes were cast. Women did not vote then.

Practically all of the few persons voting were Republicans, as there is no contest for any of the Democratic nominations, or for those on the American Labor ticket, and hence there is no incentive for any but Republicans to vote. The vote in the Third, Fourth and Fifth, river Democratic wards, which was even lighter than in other parts of the city, did not indicate that Democrats are participating in the choice of Republican candidates to any great extent. It had been thought that they might do this.

The general number of votes cast up to 2 p. m. was 26 to a precinct. There are 618 precincts. The total registration in the city is 257,282. One of the city hall officials, including the Mayor's office, observed the day as a holiday, but those classes as state offices, such as the Collector's office, were open, as were the courts.

It was noticeable that more interest was taken in the even-numbered wards, for which Aldermen are to be elected this year, than in the odd-numbered wards, whose Aldermen hold over for another two years. All the members of the Board of Aldermen are nominated and elected by city-wide vote.

Among the Republican contests, the chief interest was shown in that of Walter J. G. Neun and Oliver T. Remmers for the nomination for the presidency of the board. The name of Edward J. Kuhns also appears on the ballot, but he has withdrawn from the active contest, and Republican election judges in most of the precincts reminded voters, when they took their ballots, that "Kuhns is not a candidate."

G. O. P. Organization State.

The Republican organization state, for the wards where there are contests, is:

Sixth Ward, Louis A. Lange; Eighth, Edward Hirth; Tenth, George Meisinger; Twelfth, Charles A. Neumann; Fourteenth, Gus A. Baur; Sixteenth, Adam Reis; Twentieth, Wilbur C. Schwartz; Twenty-second, Herman C. Krademmer; Twenty-fourth, Elmer E. Walter; and Twenty-sixth, Ralph H. Eilers.

The organization is supporting Neun, he being chairman of the Republican City Committee.

In the Twenty-fourth Ward, Alderman Chauncey J. Krueger, who did not get the organization endorsement, is opposing Walter. Krueger, formerly Judge of the Court of Criminal Correction, was one of the "three Ks" in the election of November, 1920, and was defeated for re-election as Judge, through the opposition of the League of Women Voters.

The contest in the Twentieth Ward, between Alderman Schwartz and Charles J. Eisenberg, also has attracted interest outside the ward. The heaviest vote was reported from the Twenty-fourth Ward in the telephone canvass. In the first precinct of that ward at 6803 Gravois avenue, 41 votes had been cast at noon. Thirty-three votes were reported from one precinct of the Twelfth Ward and 24 from one precinct of the Twentieth. In contrast with the report of six votes cast in one precinct of the Twenty-third Ward.

LECTURER PLEADS FOR RIGHT TO BE "LAZY AND TO LIVE"

Does Not Agree That Every One Should Work—Cites Chinese Way as Ideal.

By Cable to the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

(Copyright, 1923.)

LONDON, March 9.—The good old bit of advice, "Go to the ant, thou sluggard; consider her ways and be wise," was completely reversed here last night by Bertrand Russell, philosopher, in a lecture before the Independent labor party. Russell said in substance, "Go to the heathen Chinese and learn to be lazy and enjoy life."

"I don't agree that everyone should work," said the lecturer. "Regularity is quite contrary to human nature. If all workers under the spur of hunger we would, be very much better."

"In China a man does just enough work to get his living, and then he lives in the sun and enjoys himself. Are we happier than he?"

"I tell you, self-government in industry should be used for the purpose of producing much leisure rather than for producing more goods. The modern philosophy of life is entirely ridiculous. Let us insist on the right to be lazy and to live."

WAR VETERAN LEAPS TO DEATH OFF WASHINGTON MONUMENT

This Is Said to Be Second Suicide On Record at Place—One Accidental Death.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 9.—A young man, believed to have been A. Berney Selig, a war veteran, leaped to his death from the observation tower at Washington Monument early this afternoon.

Monument attendants expressed belief that the man could not have fallen from the window since it is narrow and its sill is four feet above the floor. The man's clothing was marked "A. Berney Selig" and his pockets contained 39 cents, but no other marks to identify him were found.

This is said to be the second suicide on record at the monument. The first time any one has leaped from one of the windows, which are about 500 feet from the ground. The other suicide was that of a Virginia woman who plunged into the elevator shaft in 1918. Ten years prior to that a painter working in the monument was accidentally killed in a fall. The monument is 555 feet high.

36 HOLES OF GOLF ON TODAY'S PROGRAM FOR PRESIDENT

Warm Florida Sunshine and Houseboat Cruising Prove of Great Benefit to Mrs. Harding.

By the Associated Press.
VERO, Fla., March 9.—Thirty-six holes of golf, one round here and another at Fort Pierce, appealed to President Harding today as he began the fourth day of his Florida vacation trip.

The most golf the executive has been able to get in heretofore in one day has consisted of 18 holes. The 60-mile cruise made yesterday by the houseboat Pioneer, however, put the presidential foursome in position for a round this morning here and another this afternoon at Fort Pierce, half an hour's automobile ride from Vero.

While golf is doing much for the President, the warm Florida sunshine is greatly benefiting Mrs. Harding. Members of the party said yesterday that she was enjoying the cruise down the Indian River and was feeling better than at any time since she was taken ill last September.

40 MEN WORK 5 HOURS TO FREE CLERK LOCKED IN VAULT AS JOKE

10-Year-Old Bank Employee Speechless When Removed—Will Recover.

By the Associated Press.
PATERSON, N. J., March 9.—Charles Digiamaga, 19-year-old bank clerk, was taken from the safety deposit vault of the Peoples Park Trust Co. shortly after 10 o'clock last night, after being locked in the vault more than five hours as a result of a joke on the part of a fellow bank clerk.

Digiamaga, taken to a hospital, was speechless after he was released. Physicians believe he will recover.

Forty men worked with sledges, electric drills and acetylene torches five hours and a half before an opening 15 inches in diameter was made in the roof of the vault, through which was lowered Dr. Irving Brown. He found Digiamaga semi-conscious. Two other men also got down into the vault, and the door was opened with a key which fitted the time lock from inside the vault.

TWO MEN ROB BANK MESSENGER OF $360 AND ESCAPE

Employee of North St. Louis Savings & Trust Co. Held Up in Front of Institution on Grand Boulevard.

BEATEN WITH PISTOLS WHEN HE RESISTS

Third Robbery of Messenger of This Concern in Two Years—Eriss Pillow Was One of Them.

Two armed men at 2:25 o'clock this afternoon held up William Pieper, messenger of the North St. Louis Savings and Trust Co., 3500 North Grand boulevard, in front of the bank, seized Pieper's satchel, containing $360 in nickels, dimes and quarters, and escaped. It was the third robbery of a messenger of this bank within two years.

Pieper, who was returning from the Federal Reserve Bank, where he had obtained the money, did not readily comprehend the command to elevate his hands and was beaten on the neck and hands with a revolver when he resisted the robbers. Although dazed by the blows, he recovered his self-possession in time to fire several shots at the fleeing robbers.

They escaped in an automobile, east on Hubert and south on Garrison avenue. Several automobiles took up the chase, but were outdistanced.

Pieper, who is 50 years old, lives at 1312 N. Market street. He has been employed as messenger about 18 months.

On April 4, 1921, Eriss Pillow, a messenger of the bank, was held up and robbed of $150 and $200 in checks that he was taking to a bank. He was afterward slain, following his identification of one of the robbers.

On Sept. 14 John Hellems, negro, who succeeded Pillow as messenger, was robbed of $14,000 that he was taking to a downtown bank. He afterwards confessed that the robbery was a frame-up.

Hellems was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary, and men he implicated in the robbery were also sent to the penitentiary.

RAINS CONTINUE IN FRANCE

Disaster Similar to That of 1910 Possible in Few Days.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, March 9.—Rains persist throughout France, despite the optimism of the Weather Bureau, keeping the population in the river regions and mountains in a state of great anxiety. The flooded rivers upbided in some regions only to rise again through further heavy rains. Boats are required in many towns in the Valley of the Loire, in parts of Bordeaux and in the streets of numerous towns along the Seine, which, though stationary yesterday, is rising again in the section above Paris.

The weather prophets continue to predict an improvement in the weather, but the downpour has not abated, and it will require only a few days more of such weather to bring on another disaster similar to that of 1910.

BABY AND NEW MAID MISSING

Son of Albany (N. Y.) Judge Believed to Have Been Kidnaped.

By the Associated Press.
ALBANY, N. Y., March 9.—Police today were searching for Leopold Minkin, 3-year-old son of Judge Minkin of the City Court, who disappeared yesterday when in the custody of a newly employed maid. It was learned that a young woman answering the description of the maid and accompanied by a child had purchased a railroad ticket to New York, but no further trace of the boy had been found.

The police and the child's parents are unable to furnish a motive for the supposed kidnapping, as Judge Minkin is not wealthy.

FORD PAYS ALL UNSECURED LINCOLN MOTOR CLAIMS, TOTALING $4,000,000

Checks Mailed to All Creditors—Action Unprecedented, Says Detroit Banker.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., March 9.—All creditors of the Lincoln Motor Car Co. purchased last year by Henry Ford at a receiver's sale, have been reimbursed in full by Ford, it was officially announced today.

The sum needed to pay all claims in full was approximately $4,000,000. Ford took the step, it was announced, despite the fact that he was not required to do so under the terms of his purchase.

The announcement was made by Ralph Stone, president of the Detroit Trust Co., receiver for the Lincoln company. All creditors of the concern, it was announced, will receive 100 cents on the dollar as a result of Ford's action. They previously had received 47½ per cent, all that remained of the proceeds of the sale. The $4,000,000 given by Ford pays the remaining 52½ per cent. Checks were mailed yesterday.

In addition to paying the claims of about 900 merchandise creditors, Ford also reimbursed the seven former directors of the company who had indorsed paper held by the banks against the Lincoln company. Among the seven were some of Ford's friends of many years' standing, including Henry B. and Wilfred C. Leland, founders of the Lincoln company.

$1,550,000 Paid to Government.
Ford paid $8,000,000 for the Lincoln company at the receiver's sale

last year. Out of this sum were paid a number of preferred claims, including one to the Government for alleged overpayment on war contracts. The item of the Government was greatly reduced, being finally settled for $1,550,000. The Federal claim originally amounted to more than $8,000,000, the former sum being agreed upon at a conference between the receiver and Government officials.

Notice to the creditors of Ford's intention to pay the unsecured debts of the Lincoln company was contained in a brief and simply worded letter attached to which was a check for the amount unpaid. It stated merely that it had been Ford's intention to provide for the payment in full of all proper claims against the concern. It stipulated that the check, constituting an assignment of all claims, should be presented for payment before March 20.

"Unprecedented," Banker Says.
Ralph Stone, acting upon Ford's action, declared that it was unique and unprecedented in his 28 years' experience in banking. He pointed out that payment of this additional $4,000,000 means "realization by creditors rendered apparently hopeless by Government claims for taxes and alleged overpayments on war contracts" of a full return of money due them.

"Mr. Ford is the only one who can make an authoritative statement as to what moved him to do it," Stone added.

WOMAN JUMPS OFF MUNICIPAL BRIDGE Attendant Reports She Waited for Autos to Pass and Plunged Into River.

A woman jumped into the Mississippi River from the middle span of the Municipal bridge at 2:45 p. m. today, according to a report made by Albert Kracke, a bridge checker, to the police.

Kracke said he noticed the woman as she passed his shanty at the west end of the bridge, and that she appeared to be 35 or 40 years old. He saw a dark suit and seemed to be smiling and talking to herself.

He said she stopped at the middle of the bridge, waited until some automobiles passed, then climbed on the railing and jumped.

EXPERIMENT SAID TO PROVE PLANES CAN TRANSFER FUEL

Contact Between Planes Flying at Reduced Speed Achieved at Mineola.

By the Associated Press.
MINEOLA, N. Y., March 9.—Contact between airplanes flying at reduced speed to prove messages or fuel could be passed from one machine to another, was successfully achieved yesterday at Mitchell Field by Lieut. Clyde F. Pinter and Lawrence B. Sperry, inventor. Eight contacts were made at various heights during the first hour of tests.

Sperry, who piloted a messenger plane weighing 800 pounds, had his craft fitted with a wooden upright, and during the tests, connected the pole with a metal ladder suspended from the bottom of the larger machine.

Both pilots carried parachutes, but no mishap occurred, although weather conditions were unfavorable. The experiments were witnessed by aviation officers, who declared it proved that planes could hook on disjuncts through ladders and uprights and take on supplies.

FRENCH SAID TO HAVE TAKEN MORE CENTERS IN RUHR AREA

Railways' Stations at Hamm and Dornap Reported to Have Been Occupied, Together With Rhenau Harbor—Dortmund Police Force Expelled.

14 PERSONS GIVEN PRISON SENTENCES

Editors, Customs Officials and Trade Union Leaders Courtmartialled for Agitation Against the Occupying Forces.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, March 9.—The newspaper Germania reports that the French have occupied the railway station of Hamm, an important junction of the main railroad line between Essen and Berlin.

A dispatch from Mannheim reports that the French have occupied Rhenau Harbor, on the Rhine in lower Alsace, and are marching on Rhenau, which is a suburb of Mannheim. It is also reported that the French have occupied the railway station of Dornap, near Elberfeld.

State-owned forests extending over 56,000 acres have been seized by the occupying forces in the newly occupied territory of the Rhineland and Ruhr, according to a statement before the Budget Committee of the Prussian Diet by the Socialist Deputy Peter Hochdorn. This total, he said, includes 24,594 acres of Prussian forest but does not take into account numerous seizures of community forests. Dr. Wendert, Prussian Minister of Agriculture, announced that thus far 41 forestry officials have been deported.

French Troops Again Withdrawn From Dortmund.

By the Associated Press.
ESSEN, March 9.—The French troops have again been withdrawn from Dortmund, which was occupied yesterday for the purpose of rounding up all the members of the disbanded security police still at large. The city was reached by the French soldiers and 270 of the security force members arrested and expelled from the district with a warning not to return.

The expulsion completes the disarmament and dissolution of the police bodies throughout the Ruhr. Only certain towns now have civil police, who are virtually mere watchmen.

Source of Annoyance.

This move was part of the Franco-Belgian program to rid the Ruhr of some 10,000 security police who have been a constant source of annoyance to the occupying forces, doing espionage work, spreading propaganda and otherwise hindering the French and Belgian military.

At Recklinghausen, Dr. Eisenreth has been arrested by the French authorities. He is president of the municipal police and had acted as such in the day time, but by night he had assumed various other roles, the French assert, to facilitate his work as an agitator among the labor element. When arrested he had three identification cards, it is stated, and the French intelligence service reported it had found he had three houses in various districts, taken under different names. In his pockets was discovered a set of false whiskers.

14 Persons Sentenced.

Fourteen persons accused of various offenses against the occupying forces at Crefeld have been sentenced by a Belgian court martial to jail terms of from three to six months each. Six of the prisoners were newspaper editors accused of spreading agitation. The others were customs officials and trade union leaders who had disobeyed the orders of the occupying authorities.

Dr. Schweibé, a member of the international Rarri boundary commission, was sentenced to six months.

'ACCOMMODATION' PAPER OF DIAMOND COMPANY TRACED

Accountant Says It Consisted of Blank Notes and Was Given to Harris Firm by Pawnshop.

WAS TO BE FILLED IN AT HARRIS' DISCRETION

Gallant Loan and Jewelry Co. Said to Have Owed Firm $4600, but Advanced $50,000 of Paper.

How the Harris & Kober Diamond Importing Co., 764 Olive street, which failed last week with liabilities possibly in excess of $1,000,000, obtained some of the "accommodation paper," with which it raised money at banks and purchased merchandise in the last 18 months, was disclosed yesterday in the bankruptcy hearing before Referee Coles.

It has been charged that "accommodation paper" was given in payment for diamonds purchased in New York between Feb. 12 and 20 by Louis K. Harris, president of the Harris & Kober company. The explanation of members of the first before Referee Coles is being held to trace these gems and orders for their reclamation were issued by the Federal Judge Paris.

Miss Rose C. Wipfler, the firm's accountant, said in response to questions put by Referee Coles and M. C. Levinson, counsel for the receiver, that the Gallant Loan and Jewelry Co., a pawnshop, at 1416 Market street, gave the firm accommodation paper after Harris went to New York, Feb. 12, which was sent to him. She said this paper consisted purely of blank notes signed by the Gallant company, to be filled in at the discretion of Harris and Kober, for whatever amount they desired, and was not an obligation for merchandise.

Owed Firm About $4600. Referee Coles asked Miss Wipfler why the Gallant company was so generous with its paper, and she answered that the Gallant company owed Harris & Kober about $4600 for money advanced. The referee brought out that the Gallant company had given Harris & Kober $50,000 of accommodation paper, or $46,400 more than its actual obligation.

He asked if the blank notes signed by the Gallant company were filled in for round sums, such as $5000 or $10,000, or for odd sums. She said odd sums were used, although the notes did not represent actual transactions for merchandise—sums that the Harris & Kober company needed. She filled them out at the discretion of Harris or Kober in the offices of the latter.

"Were odd sums used to simulate legitimate transactions?" Referee Coles asked.

"We had the blank notes and filled them in for various sums of 18 percent at the time," Miss Wipfler answered.

Sent Paper to Him in New York. She said that Harris & Kober got some of this Gallant paper prior to Harris' last trip to New York, when he purchased about $65,000 worth of diamonds, and that while he was there she sent him more of the paper, filled out by her at the direction of Kober.

The witness was shown some of the firm's records and her books and asked concerning interest paid to Simon Van Raalte, millionaire real estate operator and money lender, who, the record shows, has been paid 18 percent interest a year on loans he made to Harris & Kober.

Miss Wipfler said she figured the interest at 18 percent a year, "trebled," making a total of 18 percent, at the direction of Charles G. Krell, Van Raalte's secretary.

18 Per Cent Transaction Cited. One of these 18 per cent transactions with Van Raalte was cited for the enlightenment of Referee Coles. Miss Wipfler said that Harris & Kober, on Feb. 2 last, gave Van Raalte notes with a face value of $17,877.77 for loan of that amount. The interest to maturity on these notes, at 6 percent, was $562.31. This interest was multiplied by 3, she said, at the direction of Van Raalte's secretary, making a total interest charge on this loan of $1686.93, or 18 percent.

But that was not all that was deducted in this transaction, according to Harris & Kober's records, which show that about $300 more representing 10 per cent interest on a previous loan on which Van Raalte had charged only 8 per cent, was deducted, leaving Harris & Kober at the end of the transaction about $14,880.54, and giving Van Raalte about $2486.93 interest in advance.

"Preference of Van Raalte." Referee Coles inquired why interest was figured in this manner, and Miss Wipfler answered that it was the preference of Mr. Van Raalte's office to charge it at 6 percent, "trebled."

Further examination of Kober disclosed that Van Raalte has some of the diamonds purchased by Harris in New York a few days before the failure, while New York creditors have been endeavoring to trace, and for which Judge Paris issued the reclamation order.

On Feb. 19 Kober substituted $2694.71 of the newly purchased

MISS RALPH has filed suit in the New York City courts against John H. She says she received the $6,000 and the first month's $300 installment, but that thereafter Kirby refused to pay. Kirby denies that there was any such contract. gems with Van Raalte for old collateral, he said, and she substituted other lots of the newly purchased diamonds for old collateral that had been pawned to the Kaster Loan and Jewelry Co., a pawn shop at 1755 Market street.

Hearing Adjourned. It was also shown by Miss Wipfler that the transaction for the purchase from Van Raalte in 1921 of the Walker Jewelry and Loan Co., 213 North Seventh street, was carried through the accounts of the Harris & Kober company in its books. Both Harris and Kober maintain that they own the Walker company as individuals; that it is no part of the corporate assets of their diamond-importing company.

The hearing was adjourned to March 21 for the further examination of the partners. In the meantime, the receiver, J. G. W. Schoenberger, will make an appraisal of the diamonds in stock, which Harris estimates at $75,000. The failure of Harris & Kober, a said by leading jewelers to be the second largest wholesale jewelry failure of record. Rocks were placed on the tracks near Niedrich for the same purpose. Both attempts were discovered in time to prevent a crash.

Several cars were derailed near Coblenz during the night as a result of tearing out of rails. The German coal miners in the Ruhr are gradually being dismissed from work, according to the French authorities, who declare 2000 were discharged Wednesday from the mines in the Recklinghausen district alone. It is assumed by the French that these dismissals are part of the German plan to reduce the coal output gradually to a minimum as part of the passive resistance program.

French Occupy Part of Mine. The French have occupied part of the Bismarck coal mine near Recklinghausen because the Germans refused to load coal for the occupational authorities. The men closed down all the loading machinery in protest against the occupation. Meetings of the unemployed are being held at various points, according to the French, in protest against the German system of paying strike funds, and there is much unrest among the thousands of miners and factory workers now idle.

At Dortmund 8000 unemployed met and gave notice to the municipality that the strike pay of 23 marks daily was insufficient and that unless the sum was increased they would go to work for the French and Belgians. There is charge of the payment of the funds say it is impossible to increase the allowance.

TURKS' REPLY TO ALLIES NOW EN ROUTE

Courier From Angora Expected to Reach Constantinople Tonight or Tomorrow.

By the Associated Press. CONSTANTINOPLE, March 9.—A special courier left Angora yesterday bearing the Angora Government's reply to the allied peace proposals. He is expected to reach Constantinople tonight or tomorrow.

PARIS, March 9.—Dispatches from Constantinople declare the Turkish grand national assembly at Angora has given full powers to Foreign Minister Ismet Pasha to continue negotiations with the allies on the financial, economic and judicial peace terms which the Turks have not accepted. The assembly, it is stated, endorsed the concessions made by Ismet at Lausanne. Political circles in Angora, it is added, are optimistic over the issue of the negotiations.

Three Outstanding Points of Disagreement.

LONDON, March 9.—Three points of disagreement outstanding between the British and the Turks are revealed in Lord Curzon's 850-page report on the peace talks made public here. They are:

1. The question of mutual Turkish indemnities, of which the British desire to wash their hands. 2. The economic clauses of the treaty which the Angora assembly and Government wishes to reserve outside of the treaty for future discussion and which the British think should be included in the treaty. 3. Insistence by the Turks that they shall have the right to arrest and search foreigners or their houses without the presence of foreign consuls, which the British firmly oppose.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, March 9.—It is probable that the Public Service Commission will not announce its valuation of the United Railways before May 1 because of the length of the record to be absorbed.

Arguments in the case were closed yesterday. Former City Counselor Gen. Desroute declared had only fortified France in her struggle in the Ruhr, and he predicted that soon the French and Belgian economic blockade will begin to bear fruit.

Germany Transferring Children From Troubled Zone. By the Associated Press. BOCHUM, March 9.—The transfer by the Germans of several hundred thousand children from the troubled zone has begun. Five hundred youngsters from 3 to 7 years of age were sent from here by special train yesterday. The Germans announced they were sent to Bremen, where they would be distributed among private families to be cared for until the troubles blow over.

BERLIN, March 9.—Premier Poincare is declared by the Social Democratic news agency to have notified the Danish Government that France can hardly regard the admission of German children to Denmark for recuperation as a sign of neutrality. The statement is made public in connection with a report that the Danes had decided to care for 10,000 children from the Ruhr for three months instead of 2400 as originally planned.

Sabotage Continues. By the Associated Press. DUISBURG, March 9.—During the last two days the Inter-Allied Rhine-Land High Commission has reported 250 persons from the old occupied area of the Rhine-land, raising the total of deportees from this territory to 935, according to semi-official German advices. The recent deportees have been mostly postal or customs officials.

PLAN TO AID WESTERN FARMERS. Government to Defer Collection of Charges for Irrigation. By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, March 9.—Immediate relief for thousands of farmers located on Federal irrigation projects in the West will be made available under a policy announced today by Secretary Work of the Interior Department.

King and Queen of England Break Bread With Laborites

Dinner Arranged by Viscount and Lady Astor—Thomas and Clynes in Silken Knee Breeches.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, March 9.—The King and Queen for the first time in their lives broke bread with the labor members of Parliament last night in the home of one of their subjects. The occasion was a dinner given by Viscount and Lady Astor, at which their Majesties met among others James Henry Thomas, general secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen; John Robert Clynes, president of the National Council of General Workers, and former labor leader in the House, and Philip Snowden, and their wives.

Labor appeared in silken knee breeches, which was jokingly described as a confession, and there also were present those who wear the checked garter—Balfour, Salisbury and Grey of Falden.

King Desired Meeting. The affair, unique in British social history, was arranged as much to permit the King and Queen to meet in social intercourse with the Laborites as to allow the Laborites to come in social contact with their rulers. It was said that the King had made known his desire to meet the leaders of the labor party in such a manner.

Lady Astor, whose campaign for political honors was characterized by much banter, greeted the Laborites when they appeared in knee breeches with joking remarks. She whispered, "Pull up your stockings" in the ear of Thomas.

American Ambassador Harvey escaped remarks on his black knickerbockers, because he has frequently appeared in them and has become familiar figure in the customary court dress. Laborites Hang Back. Viscount Astor escorted the Queen to the banquet hall while Lady Astor entered on the arm of the King. Once she looked back and urged her guests to hurry, for the Labor members were apparently expecting that the usual precedence by rank would be in order, while the others of the nobility seemed anxious to hold back.

The guests sat at two large round tables amid the fragrance of pink tulips and other blossoms. The diners included, in addition to those mentioned, Premier Bonar Law, the Marquis and Marchioness of Salisbury, the Speaker and Mrs. Whitely, Lady Frances Balfour, Lord and Lady Eustace Percy, Lady Grey of Falden, Lord Robert Cecil, Lord and Lady Islington, Dame Lytton, Mrs. Lloyd George, Sir John and Lady Simon, the Lord Mayor and Lady Mayress of Plymouth, Colonel and Mrs. Spender-Clay and Mrs. Margaret Wintingham, M. P.

Labor Leaders to Dine at Buckingham Palace. By the Associated Press. LONDON, March 9.—J. Ramsay MacDonald, labor leader in the House of Commons; John Robert Clynes, Philip Snowden and James Henry Thomas have accepted invitations to dine with the King and Queen at Buckingham Palace on March 15, according to the Daily Herald, the Labor organ, and a number of Labor members of Parliament will attend the afternoon party at Buckingham on March 16.

Although this is the first occasion in which Laborites will dine at Buckingham, members of that party have attended summer garden fetes there.

TAXATION BECOMING UNBEARABLE. SAYS INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE. Levies on Incomes Declared to Be Threat to Nation's Economic Progress. By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, March 9.—Taxation rapidly is becoming unbearable, and the Federal income tax threatens economic progress, the National Industrial Conference warned in a statement today. Approximately 14 cents of every dollar earned in the nation in 1922 would be paid in taxes, it was declared.

Federal taxes during 1921-22 took more than half the total payments of $4,489,000,000 in that period, or 43.3 percent of the nation's total income of $59,300,000,000, according to the statement. In 1913-14 taxes took but 6 1/2 percent of the national income, it was pointed out. The burden of taxes, it was said, was making inroads on the surplus considered vital to business and industry is hampered because of the excesses.

"The continuance of so burdensome a system of taxation, aside from its stifling effects on individual initiative and effort, spells a lower standard of living for the American people," the statement concluded.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 9.—Two agricultural bills backed by practically all agricultural organizations in the State were passed by the House today without opposition. One authorizes formation of non-profit cooperative marketing associations without capital stock. The other authorizes county courts to appropriate money to aid county farm organizations in extension work under certain circumstances.

Constable Kelly of Zeigler, Ill. Shot to Death by Miner. By the Associated Press. WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., March 9.—John Kelly, constable at Zeigler, one of the men indicted in connection with Herrin mine riots, was shot and killed at Zeigler last night. Kelly met his death at hands of Danny Davis, coal miner. It was stated Davis owed Kelly $5 and that when Kelly asked him for the money in the soft drink parlor at Zeigler last night a quarrel ensued, followed by the shooting.

Kelly was on trial at Benton yesterday for the death of Paul Kurek and when he was dismissed by Sheriff Dorris in the courtroom a gun bearing three notches was taken from him. Kelly was 45 years old.

Thrust was pronounced dead at 7:42 a. m. The execution took place in a drizzling rain. The stole neck of the man remained until the last. His only statement, "God bless you all," was made after the black hood had been placed over his head and the noose about his neck.

Confidence Held to Determine How Secretary of War Can Get Possession of Fleet. A conference to determine how the Secretary of War could regain the fleet of four towboats and 13 barges leased last April to Edward P. Goltra was held today in the office of United States District Attorney Carroll.

Those attending were Col. T. Q. Ashburn, chief of the division of land and coastwise waterways of the War Department; James E. Smith, president of the Mississippi Valley Association, and W. L. Cole, special assistant to the Attorney-General.

It was decided to have a conference at 3 p. m. between Carroll, Cole and Col. Ashburn and Goltra, and Attorney Frank Davis Jr. of Washington. Mr. Smith said that he had filled the terms of his contract and asserted that he had fulfilled them. Goltra and Attorney Davis of the Washington law firm of which former Attorney-General A. Mitchell Palmer is head, interviewed Carroll yesterday. Carroll said that he told Goltra that the dispute was a simple question of fact and suggested that Goltra carry it before some United States Commissioner. Carroll said that Goltra did not respond to the suggestion.

As is known, Goltra has not operated the fleet, and because of the demand by shippers, particularly of grain, for added facilities, the Secretary of War is anxious to attach the Goltra fleet to the government-operated barge line between St. Louis and New Orleans.

YOUNG IOWA FARMER HANGED FOR MURDER OF TEACHER. Asks Deputy to Tear Up Shirt He Wore on Day He Killed Girl Who Had Hired Him. By the Associated Press. FORT MADISON, Ia., March 9.—Earl Throst, young Allamakee County farmer, mounted the gallows here today for the murder of Inga Magnusson, the pretty country school teacher who "turned him down."

Sheriff Ben A. Davis of Allamakee County pulled the lever at exactly 7:30 a. m. Throst indirectly confessed to the murder of Inga Magnusson shortly before he was hanged. "Take this shirt and tear it up," Throst told a Deputy Sheriff, as he was dressing to go to the gallows. "But why should I tear up the shirt?" asked the Deputy. The grand jury, investigating the "third degree" methods, by order of Circuit Judge Grimm, interviewed prisoners in the city jail yesterday afternoon, and a stenographer was kept busy for more than an hour taking down complaints of men under sentence or awaiting trial, who declared they had been beaten into making confessions.

"I confessed a highway robbery," said a negro, "but they made me confess by hitting me on the back with a piece of rubber hose."

James Seward, under sentence of death in connection with the murder of a prohibition enforcement agent at Herculaneum, Mo., told the jury that he had confessed the crime only after a police captain spanked him with a barrel stave.

Saving His Tale for Appeal. "I could tell you a lot about police brutality," said Charles Merrill, who was sentenced to death in connection with the murder of two policemen who prevented a roll holdup at Broadway and Peoria streets. "But I am saving it for my appeal to the Supreme Court."

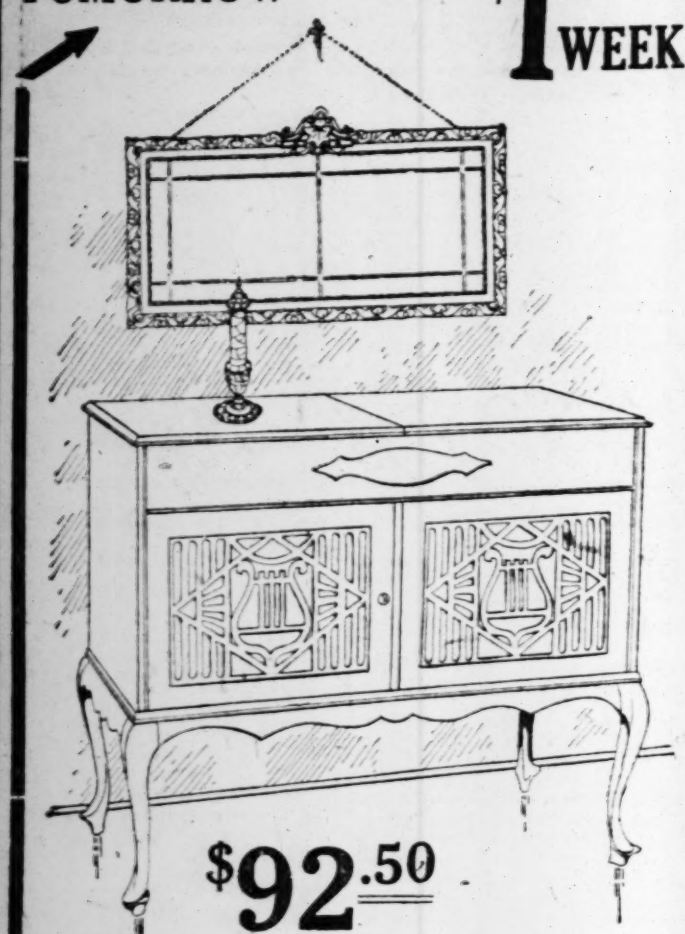

"Why didn't you make use of your trial?" he was asked. "I don't care to go into details now," was Merrill's reply. "I am saving it for my appeal."

Henry McNeal, a negro, charged with robbery, said that a Captain had beaten him on the head with a pick handle.

"Why did he do it?" McNeal asked. "Search me," the prisoner replied. "He keeps that pick handle in his office all the time to beat prisoners with."

HOUSE ENGROSSES DRY ENFORCEMENT BILL

Measure Amended So That Physician May Charge Only 50 Cents for Whisky Prescription.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 8.—The House engrossed the Antisaloons League dry enforcement bill at midnight last night by a vote of 63 to 23, after the "dry" forces had for four hours countered attacks of the "wets" who sought to emasculate the measure by damaging amendments.

When the smoke of battle had cleared it was found that the "drys" had succeeded in putting even more teeth into the measure than it had originally contained, while the "wets" had won a point by successfully splitting the "drys" on the question of methods of effective prohibition enforcement, with the result that all sections of the bill providing for a State prohibition enforcement commission with 10 field deputies were eliminated.

One of the amendments adopted provides that physicians cannot charge more than 50 cents for writing a prescription for whisky. Any physician who violates that provision, if it becomes law, would be subject to a fine of from $25 to $100. The amendment was offered by Representative Chase of St. Louis. He said he offered it in an effort to stamp out profiteering among physicians.

Jail Term for Officers.
The "drys" obtained adoption of an amendment providing that any State or municipal peace officer, such as Sheriff, Constable and policeman, who "fail, refuse or neglect to enforce the prohibition laws, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of from $500 to $1000 or a sentence of from six months to a year in jail, or both." The original bill provided that failure of such officers to enforce prohibition laws would constitute grounds for removal from office. The "drys" consider the possibility of a fine or jail sentence more effective.

The House refused to adopt any amendment to the section regulating sale of patent medicines or flavoring extracts. The original bill was worded so as to curb alleged "bootlegging" in these articles by persons in country districts who peddle often whisky under the guise of a home remedy or flavoring extract. The section does not affect the sale of legitimate medicines or extracts handled through reputable firms who have Government permits.

Senate Eliminated Amendment.
It was the adoption by the Senate Wednesday night of an amendment eliminating this section which caused Senator McCawley, who is handling the measure there, to place it on the informal calendar rather than have it engrossed without the provision. He said the amendment defeated the purpose of the bill. McCawley is hoping to convince some of the "dry" Senators of the necessity of this provision before again calling up the bill.

Representative Whitaker of Hickory county, director of the House dry bill, said during debate last night that he did not anticipate the House bill would be adopted by the Senate. He believes the McCawley bill will be passed in a day or two and that when it goes over to the House, the Senate bill will be substituted for the House bill on the House calendar. This procedure will permit of passage of the measure before adjournment of the session, if the two branches can get together on the bill, and at the same time will result in retention of sufficient semblance to the original measure to satisfy the Anti-Saloons League and the W. C. T. U.

Warm Debate in House.
Debate on the measure in the House waxed warm on several occasions. Reference of "wets" to non-enforcement of prohibition drew fire from Whitaker, who said that absence of intoxication among members of the House on the floor during sessions at all times during the present session indicated that progress was being made in enforcement. "I have been here for 12 years and this is the first session that I have not seen some member on the floor of the House in an intoxicated condition," Whitaker said. "It has occurred at every previous session and I recall on one occasion 12 members of the House were intoxicated and were present during a single session."

Representative Blaine of Shannon County, who wanted the provision creating a prohibition commissioner in the bill, declared many local officials would not enforce the prohibition laws. "The local official knows he's got to depend on certain votes for re-election," Blaine said. Blaine qualified himself to speak as a prohibitionist by saying that he was 50 years old and had "never tasted whisky, wine or beer, and don't intend to."

ZOO'S FAMILY WAKING UP WITH THE COMING OF SPRING

Animals Apparently in Good Condition. With Exception of "Phil Brock," Who Has a Toothache.

The Zoo's happy family is waking up. Out at Forest Park, with the first signs of spring, yet invisible to most, but arousing an attuned sensitivity in the animal instinct, bruis is stretching idle limbs and one by one the hibernating beasts are poking about, ready for warmer weather and a little exercise.

Over at the lion house Gretchen, mother of triplets last fall, is worried with the care of a mother who has been separated from her offspring. The cubs have been taken from her, and for hours she paces her cage, gazing earnestly through bars at the trio next door. The youngsters are now feeding on raw meat and growing tremendously.

"They're a healthy lot," said George Vierheller, secretary of the Zoological Board of Control, in charge of the Zoo. "But I can't say as much for Phil Brock. Phil's got a toothache. He's cutting a few molars and is having a awful time of it." The "gentleman chimp" is improving, however, but right now isn't inviting visitors to remain for luncheon.

A monkey house is to be built this spring over near the zebras at the southeast section of the park. There will be more than 40 cages and a stage is to be provided for the performances of the chimpanzees. Henry Kiel and the recuperating Phil Brock, who eat with the usual knife, fork and spoon and do other entertaining stunts with rare intelligence.

Hand made Blouses always tempt the well-dressed woman, and especially when she has such an unlimited choice as are offered here. Twenty models, each with style and trimming so distinctly its own. They are fashioned of French voile, delightfully sheer, and trimmed with hand embroidery, drawwork, Irish crochet or Fillet lace.
They are modeled in V-shape or square neck effects with trim long sleeves and smart turnback cuffs. It is seldom that one is presented the opportunity of purchasing such exquisite Blouses so reasonably, and few can afford to miss it.

BROTHER SAYS KLIMEK WAS 'WEAK IN KNEES'

He Testifies Against Mrs. Klimek, on Trial for Poisoning Another Husband.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 9.—Completion of its case against Mrs. Tillie Klimek, on trial under the charge of poisoning
her third husband, Frank Kuznyk, is expected by the State by adjournment of court today.

Testimony of witnesses introduced by the State showed that Mrs. Klimek sat beside the bed of her husband, sewing on her mourning clothes and that she had showed neighbors an advertisement quoting him as "a very good man."

John Klimek, brother of Mrs. Klimek, Kuznyk's fourth husband, who is still in a hospital as the result of alleged poisoning by his wife, testified today that his brother was "weak in his knees" when he appeared at the blacksmith shop about three weeks before he was taken to the hospital.

Later, he said, his brother's face was put out and his skin a purple color.

Dr. Peter T. Byrnes, attending Klimek, said the sick man attempted to talk to him, but could only wave his hands which were yellow and calloused. He said he told Mrs. Klimek whatever she was cooking smelled good.

Mrs. Nellie Koulik, Mrs. Klimek's cousin and co-defendant, was freed on the charge of murder in connection with Kuznyk's death, but is being held in connection with the alleged poisoning of other relatives.

70,000,000 LIFE POLICIES IN U. S.

Relation of Insurance to Industry of Nation Discussed.

By the Associated Press.
CINCINNATI, O., March 9.—Harry
D. Wright of New York in addressing the delegates attending the sales congress of the Life Underwriters' Association of Southern Ohio here yesterday said:

"You insurance men and women represent the most important economic interest in America for there are 40,000,000 to 50,000,000 people bonded together in insurance with 70,000,000 policies, calling for $30,- 000,000,000 and with $2,000,000,000 of assets constantly at work building up the country's railroads, industries, schools and public utilities."

SUES FOR RETURN OF $1125 P. H. Fuchs Allev's Savings Trust Has Failed to Make Loan.

Philip H. Fuchs, 5558 Grace avenue, president of a motor truck company, yesterday filed suit against the Own-a-Home Savings Institution, a common law trust, and A. R.
Schollmeyer, J. R. Van Raalte and Lawrence O'Neill, trustees, for the return of a deposit of $1125. The petition states that the deposit was made on Nov. 28, last, on condition that plaintiff was to obtain a loan of between $40,000 and $50,000 from the trust.

Although the loan has not been made the defendants have failed to refund the deposit. It is alleged.
Fuchs said the proposed loan was to finance him in erecting a building.

LIQUOR SEIZURE IN PHILADELPHIA

Federal Dry Agents Raid Plant of Barber Supply Firm.

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, March 9.—
Whisky and alcohol valued at more than a quarter of a million dollars

were seized by prohibition agents yesterday in a raid on the Golden Ray Barber Supply Co. The plant had a Government permit to use denatured alcohol in the manufacture of barber supplies.

Indictments were returned by the Federal grand jury yesterday against Isaac L. Lipschutz and his wife, Edith W. Lipschutz, charging them with conspiracy to violate the volstead law. Recently the Government

WOMAN'S TEMPERATURE HAS BEEN 114 DEGREES FOR 20 DAYS

Fever, Which Is Near Record in Medical History, Remains Puzzle to Physicians.

By the Associated Press.
ESCANABA, Mich., March 9.—
Without any indications of abating
the excessive temperature of 114 degrees or more experienced by Miss Evelyn Lyons, 30, for 20 days today still obtained.

Although the fever has remained constantly within a few degrees of the highest records in medical history, Miss Lyons complained only of her inability to take exercise outside the house, where she is kept by order of the attending physicians.
The cause of the excessive temperature still remained a puzzle to physicians, the only possible solution offered by them being the fact that Miss Lyons was slightly injured in an automobile accident last September, about six months before the physicians first attended her.

James E. Smith Calls Attention of Civic Bodies of Section to This Attitude.

The attention of commercial and civic organizations in the Mississippi Valley is being called by James E. Smith, president of the Mississippi Valley Association, to the attitude of the United States Chamber of Commerce toward the $56,589,000 appropriation recently approved by the president for expenditure during 1933 upon rivers and harbors of the United States.

The appropriation is called "pork" in a communication of the national chamber to member chambers by Elliot H. Goodwin, resident vice president in Washington.

Smith, in a reply statement, declares the time has come to definitely suspend that term as applied to money spent to make rivers more navigable. He points out that the appropriation was based upon a report of the Chief of Engineers of the Army that such a sum was needed for projects already approved by Congress. He adds that the only relief from the inadequacy of the rail transportation system is use of rivers, as the Mississippi now is being used.

PROGRESS BELIEVED MADE TOWARD REUNION OF LIBERALS

Correspondence Between Lloyd George and Major Entwistle Regarded as Advance.

LONDON, March 9.—The correspondence between David Lloyd George and Major C. F. Entwistle, the Liberal member for Southwest Hull, in which it was declared that the former Premier's center party idea had been abandoned, is regarded in the lobby of the House of Commons as a distinct advance toward a reunion of the two Liberal groups.

It is stated authoritatively that no political ties whatever now exist between Lloyd George and the conservative extremists who are not included in the present government. The tacit understanding between the two wings of the late cabinet which led to the presence of Lord Birkenhead and Austen Chamberlain on Lloyd George's platform in the general election last fall was apparently

HERRIN JUROR CALLED HOME

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MARION, Ill., March 9.—The Herrin massacre trial has been adjourned for the remainder of the week, owing to the critical illness of Mrs. Nathan Barnes, wife of one of the jurors. Bailiff John Schafer accompanied the juror to his home, where both his wife and small daughter are in a serious condition. Their home is in one of the remotest parts of the county, and is without telephone service, but a messenger from there last evening reported that the wife was slightly improved, but that the daughter's condition was still serious.

Judge Hartwell expects to be able to reconvene court on Monday morning, barring an unexpected change in the condition of Mrs. Barnes that would prevent her husband's return to court.

Lenine Said to Have Had Relapse

MOSCOW, March 9.—At a meeting of the Moscow Communist party Leo Kameney, its president, made the first public statement concerning Lenine's present condition. He said that the soviet leader had resumed work too soon after his first illness and had suffered a relapse. His doctors said that he was greatly overworked, and forbade his engaging in any governmental affairs. M. Kameney added that Lenine had kept absolutely quiet and that his health was improving gradually.

Oats for men in a hurry

There is now a Quick Quaker Oats—the quickest cooking oats in the world. It cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes.

Just like regular Quaker Oats in quality and flavor. Flaked from queen grains only—just the rich, plump, flaky oats. So both styles have that luscious taste which has won the world to Quaker.

But in Quick Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And the small thin flakes cook quickly.

Your grocer has both styles—tell him which you want. The Quick style is marked "Quick" on the label.

ALDERMAN QUILTS WARD CLUB AFTER ROW

Hubele Charged Wander Was Monkey Wrench in Republican Machine.

The Republican machine of the Seventh Ward was saved the embarrassment of throwing the ward Alderman, Henry Wander, out of the Seventh Ward Republican Club last night by Wander's withdrawal. The principal charge seemed to be that he was a "monkey wrench in the apparatus." It appeared that his interference with the works was in criticizing the club's bookkeeping.

Wander was notified yesterday to be at the meeting last night to answer charges in a resolution seeking his expulsion. It was news to him, but he attended. The meeting was in a hall at Tenth street and Morrison avenue, over a garage operated by William H. Hubele, the ward committeeman.

Wander told the gathering of about 250 loyal cogs of the machine, many of whom were city employees, that he didn't know what he was charged with, although he had stated at the January meeting that he didn't think proper accounting had been made of contributions by the members. He said he hadn't charged there was shortage.

Democrats Carried Ward. "Hubele said before the election last November," the Alderman declared, "that he had $100 to carry the ward with. But the Democrats won down here by about 1000 votes. There weren't any automobiles out to carry our voters, and the only precinct I saw Hubele in was where the sisters from St. Mary's Infirmary were voting."

Hubele cut in: "You were against me because I wasn't for Koeln. You're a monkey wrench around here; that's what's the matter."

A only wanted to find out where the money was," said Wander.

Hubele called for volunteer speakers. Some of the audience declined to talk, among these being City Jailor Hatton, who used to live in the Seventh Ward. Not so with Edward Bergt, a former Alderman, who said: "Mr. Wander is always making some kind of charges. We've got to have harmony. If you're not all together in the primary and your candidate is elected, and the committeeman goes to him and wants something, maybe he'll answer."

"Well, you were lukewarm in the primary!"

A negro arose and asked Bergt if he hadn't been kicked out of the old Eighth Ward machine for being what Wander was charged with being, but got no answer. Charles J. Becker, Collector Koeln's chief clerk, who helped draw up the club's constitution, raised a constitutional question, saying he didn't know how to vote. Hubele replied:

"Vote on Ousting Him. I haven't seen it. All those in favor of throwing Wander out, raise their hands."

A few hands were raised. Someone asked what they were voting for. "Whether he's in or out," said the chairman. "We want to get rid of this monkey-wrench business." Hubele announced the vote was 19 to 10 for expulsion, but the vote was questioned, so Wander said he would resign. "In order not to embarrass city employees who were dependent on the favor of the committeeman."

Wander said afterwards that city employees in the ward pay 1 per cent on their monthly wages to the club fund.

Walter J. G. Neun, one of the Republican candidates for the presidency of the Board of Aldermen, addressing the meeting, said he wanted it understood he didn't have anything to do with the Eads and municipal bridges, but would analyze the matter if elected and see that the people's interests were not betrayed.

$27,000 in Hermit's Shack. EMPORIA, Va.—Hermit Seeley, an aged hermit, died here recently. Preparations were made to bury him in the potter's field and his body was incased in a rude pine box. When authorities visited the shack where the hermit formerly lived and moved his scanty furniture, a box containing more than $27,000 in gold and currency was found.

SILENT FOR TWO MONTHS TO PAY AN ELECTION BET

Californian Leaves Sacramento to Go on Ranch and Plays Role of Mute.

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—Could you keep from speaking to a human being for two whole months? This is the feat accomplished by Charlie McBride, Sacramento resident, in paying his election bet.

McBride did not think that Richardson had a chance to become Governor of California. As a result he made a bet with a friend, the penalty for the loser to be fixed by a third party. When the returns were counted it was decreed that McBride was to hold his tongue for two months. McBride found it impossible to pay his debt where he was known. Being a game loser, he left Sacramento and obtained work on a ranch near Hilmar. On March 1 he completed payment for his rash judgment and acted accordingly. His recent acquaintances were amazed, for never before had they heard the man utter a sound. They thought he was a mute.

Radium Ends Agony of Rheumatism

NEURITIS, NEURALGIA AND GOUT

Say Doctors—How ARIUM—Real Radium in Simple Harmless Tablets Often Bring Amazingly Quick and Lasting Relief to Even Seemingly Hopeless Cases.

$5,000.00 Reward If They Fail

(Read Guarantee Below)

You men and women today who are breaking under the terrible agony of rheumatism, you who are becoming drawn and haggard with the terrible needless suffering you are undergoing—those who are worried, depressed or restless from fear that your condition may become chronic—should through the marvelous powers of radium as prepared in harmless tablets ARIUM quickly obtain the relief for which you so long but little expected to find.

Any doctor will tell you, in the light of recent discoveries, that rheumatism is really caused by the salts of the body crystallizing and hardening on the nerve fibres. Until these salts are removed you cannot hope for any relief. The marvelous radium element in ARIUM is probably the only means known which acts in a positive manner directly on the cause of rheumatism—these accumulated salts they are carried away in a natural normal manner, often leaving your body absolutely free from all aches, pains and diseases.

ARIUM is guaranteed to contain genuine radium, certified to by the United States Government Bureau of Standards, and the Institute of Radium, Curie Laboratory of Paris. As a conclusive evidence of their confidence and a positive assurance of its merit, the Associated Radium Chemists of New York and Paris, largest producers of radium pharmaceutical products in the world, have voluntarily offered a $5,000 reward if they fail to prove that a definite quantity of genuine radium is used in the preparation of all ARIUM.

By dissolving ARIUM in water, you should convince you of its almost unbelievable power, and if you are not amazed at the satisfying results you can promptly have your money back.

ARIUM may be obtained at all good druggists.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 9.—W. R. Painter, president pro tem. of the Senate, speaking to a question of personal privilege yesterday, replied to the editorial on "Yap Politics" in the Post-Dispatch Tuesday, and defended the Democratic caucus against the charge of retrogression in taxation affairs.

The attempt is being made by some newspapers and some gentlemen who represent them in this Capitol," he said, "to direct the legislation of this body. I read here in the Post-Dispatch, a newspaper for which I have always had the highest respect, that we are all 'Yaps.' I don't know what a yap is, but I guess I am one because this editor says I am."

"Every effort is being made to send out news which is not true. Every effort is being made to put in the minds of the people of certain sections of the State that the Democrats are laying upon them unjust and unfair taxes. It never has been the policy of the Democratic party to levy unfair taxes on any person or corporation. What we are trying to do is to concentrate in certain bodies certain powers. We are not trying to lay upon any set of people more than upon any other set. We are only following the plain provisions of the Constitution of our State."

"I want to say emphatically that these bills make no attack upon any city. They are fair measures to all who want to be fair."

"I am sick and tired of this attempt of newspapers and newspaper reporters to run me in my public life. I have before me a letter from the editor of this newspaper, the same man who wrote this editorial, in which he practically indorses all of those programs."

In his speech criticizing the editorial on "Yap Politics" in the Post-Dispatch, President pro tem. Painter defended the Democratic party record and remarked: "I have before me a letter from the editor of this newspaper, the same man who wrote this editorial, in which he practically indorses all of those programs."

At the suggestion of one of the Post-Dispatch staff who had talked with Senator Painter and who reported him as desiring some advice on the tax questions and the State university, the editor of the editorial page of the Post-Dispatch wrote him a letter. The letter had no reference whatever to the program of the Democratic caucus or the Democratic leaders, or to any legislation pending before the Legislature. There was no endorsement of any program or any legislative measure. Referring to the attitude of the Post-Dispatch, the letter contained this sentence in the beginning: "Let me say that in commenting on legislative matters we have only one thing in view and that is a sound solution of all the problems there in the interest of the public welfare. We have no axes to grind; no animosities to serve."

Following is all that the letter contained with regard to the tax question: "The theory of the equalization of taxes upon which we have been working and which has led us to the support of the Tax Commission was that the adoption of a uniform rule of tax valuation in accordance with the Constitution would not increase State taxation, because the legislature could regulate the rate in accordance with the State's needs; but it would prevent discrimination in assessment, and would give the county authorities opportunity to raise the revenue necessary for their needs, for roads, schools, etc. I know that the application of the equalizing rule has pressed hard on some counties, chiefly because local authorities took advantage of the increased assessment to increase taxation. I think probably the increase was necessary in most cases, but of course, increased taxation leads to popular resentment, which is reflected frequently in extreme restrictive measures in the legislature. I don't think that our tax problem will be solved without a change in the system. My own view is that State and local taxation should be entirely separate."

The State's revenues should be derived from corporation taxes, income tax, licenses, inspection fees and other sources apart from local realty and personal property, and that the realty and personal property and other local sources of revenue should be left to the counties or cities and the assessments governed according to their will and needs. By this solution we would get rid of the constant friction and fighting arising from the efforts of some counties to avoid just State taxation and from the protests of cities against paying an unjust share of State burdens on account of the necessity of high assessment of all properties in the cities. The support of the State under this rule would of course fall mainly on the corporations and the rich, but that cannot be helped. But the counties and the cities would be free to arrange revenues according to their needs without discrimination against other cities and counties and

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF IN SUIT FILED BY MAN NOW DEAD

Question of Whether Administrator Could Continue Action Left to the Jury in the Case.

A verdict for $1986 was returned yesterday by a jury in the Circuit Court in favor of the estate of Patrick J. Toomey, an artist, against the United Railways, based on expense incurred through injury to his wife in a street car accident, and also for loss of her society and service as result of her being hurt.

Toomey, who for years painted the scenes on the floats for the Venable parade, died in St. Roch's Church, 6048 Waterman avenue, a year ago, four days after he filed the suit, and the novel question arose whether the administrator of his estate, Dr. Norton Toomey, 11 Aberdeen place, a son, could maintain the loss of service and society issue. Judge Killoren, however, submitted all issues to the jury, which returned a finding in a reduced amount, the suit being for $3000.

Mrs. Toomey, on Feb. 1, 1931, fell in a City Limits car, and her right shoulder and arm were wrenched. A sudden movement of the car caused her to lose her balance, she testified. An element of damage assigned by her husband was that the injury had deprived him of the pleasure of hearing her play the piano. Several months ago Mrs. Toomey recovered $750 in her suit based on the same accident. The defense contended that her injury was not serious enough to keep her from appearing some time later in a private historic theatrical, in which she took the part of "Madame Chouteau."

JUDGE FAVORS NEW

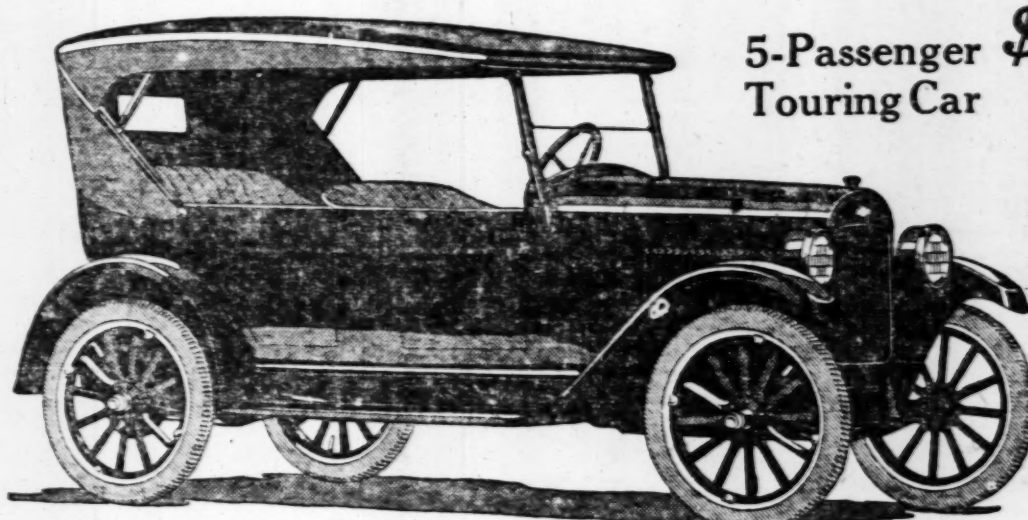

BANK INDICTMENTS

Falkenhainer Indicates He Will Not Set Aside Ruling in Hohenschild Case.Circuit Judge Falkenhainer, who recently quashed the 19 indictments against H. H. Hohenschild, president of the defunct Night and Day Bank,
on the ground of a technical defect,
is not in accord with the suggestion of Attorney-General Barrett that he should set aside his action quashing
the indictments, as part of a plan for bringing Hohenschild to trial speedily.The Attorney-General yesterday issued a reply to a recent letter of inquiry from Circuit Attorney Siderer, the following statement:"Judge Falkenhainer recently quashed the indictments against Hohenschild on the theory that they were 'duplicate' charges. He then charged (in a single count) both assaulting and receiving a deposit of money and receiving a deposit of money at a time when the bank was in an insolvent condition, the Court taking the position that the assailing and receiving were separate items requiring different proof.""In Assistant Attorney-General Davis' opinion it is suggested that if the Court will set aside its order
quashing the indictments the Circuit Attorney may enter a nolle prosequi
as to that part of the first count which charges that the defendant received a deposit, while in the second count the nolle prosequi may be against that part of the charge which relates to assailing to the reception of a deposit.""This line of procedure, it is pointed out, will preserve to the State
the charge of receiving the deposit,
as well as assailing to the reception of it, and will remove the objection of the defendants that the two acts were charged in one count."

Other Cases Cited.

"The opinion says that the prosecution can thereby accomplish by this ingenious method all that could be realized by the filing of new indictments and yet secure that result in a quick and simple way, assuming that the Circuit Judge will vacate his order quashing the indictments, in order to permit this to be done. The opinion cites more than a score of cases from various states in support of the view taken by the Attorney-General."Judge Falkenhainer, after reading Barrett's published letter last evening, said the plan suggested did not appeal to him as being a certain method of accomplishing the purpose intended, namely, to bring Hohenschild to trial again as quickly as possible, with an indictment which will be proof against technical objections."I think the safest way would be to obtain a new indictment," the Judge said. "At the time when the Hohenschild indictments were quashed, there were two courses open to the Circuit Attorney—to appeal to the Supreme Court, or to seek a new indictment. He held that it would take too long to appeal. As he thinks a reindictment the quickest way, so I would deem it the safest way. However, I will give further consideration to the Attorney-General's plan."Statement by Siderer.
Circuit Attorney Siderer said yesterday that the Attorney-General's plan was not an answer to questions he had asked. He said that he had submitted a copy of the old indictment, together with a new one, and had asked that the Attorney-General indicate whether he thought the old indictment faulty as the Judge had ruled. In that event, Circuit Attorney Siderer said, he was ready to proceed with the new indictment if that seemed sound. "I did not ask any alternative plan," he said, "and think now that if the old indictment is faulty the cure is to proceed to reindict."A motion to quash the 19 indictments against former Gov. E. W.
Major, Judge William H. Allen,
Thomas K. Cooper and Philip A.
McDermott, director of the Night and Day Bank, charged with assailing to acceptance of deposits in an insolvent institution, was filed yesterday with Judge Falkenhainer by their counsel. The motion follows the court's action in dismissing the 19 indictments against Hohenschild, and as all the indictments are similar, the quashing of the others would appear to follow naturally on the action in the Hohenschild case. Judge Falkenhainer will pass on the motion Monday.AMERICANS ON WAY TO WORLD

CONCERT FOR NEGRO PUPILS AT MISSOURI

Change Made in Place of Tomorrow's Event; to Begin at 10 A. M.

The Missouri Theater, Grand boulevard and Lucas avenue, and not the Odeon, as has been announced, will be the place of holding the final concert of the Post-Dispatch free symphony concerts for school children, tomorrow morning, at which the children of negro schools will be guests.

The children are asked to notice the change in place, and also a change in the time as printed on the tickets. The concert will begin at 10 a. m., a half hour earlier than is indicated on the tickets.

Tickets have been distributed, this week, by a committee representing negro musical organizations.

The four previous concerts of this season have been for the children of the white schools. Some of the selections which were best received at these concerts are on the program for tomorrow. Also, Conductor Rudolph Ganz and his men have some extra numbers in store, probably including Grieg's "In the Hall of the Mountain King," a favorite with all the children who have heard it.

The program as announced is: Halvorsen... Entrance of the Boyars (a) Beethoven... Minuet (b) Brahms Hungarian Dance No. 3 (c) Rossini... Overture to "William Tell" (d) MacDowell... To a Wild Rose (e) Gardner... From the Canebrake Straus... Waltz "Blue Danube" Herbert... American Fantasy Those in the audience who are interested in the music of their own race will find some negro melodies in the Herbert medley, and the "Canebrake" number is upon a negro theme.

ISOLATED MILITARY ACTION FUTILE, GEN. SARRAIL SAYS

Former Chief of Allied Forces in Orient Says Problem of German Reparations Is "Economic, Not Political."

PARIS, March 8.—Although Gen. Sarrail, former commander of the allied forces in the Orient, has decried the correspondent that he gave to the Politiken of Copenhagen an interview regarding the Ruhr situation, he gave the correspondent a long talk in which he expressed the same sentiments that were attributed to him in that alleged interview.

"Military action is useless as a means of settlement of a problem such as that of German reparations," he said. "I am not alone in believing it a bad policy. Do you imagine Clemenceau is partisan of it, or even 'Foch'?" The problem is not political. It is economic, though of course it provokes political discussions.

"My whole position is this—isolated action by France or any other nation cannot possibly be successful. The war killed all possibility of individual national policy. Russia is an example. She has found under the soviet government, as she would have discovered under any regime, that she must work with other countries and make concessions to their respective interests in order to attain her own ends and live."

"In the problem of reparations, the interests of all nations are too closely interlocked to admit single-handed action."

ILLUMINATED ADDRESS GIFT OF PROVINCE TO DUKE'S FIANCEE

People Urged Not to Make Expensive Present to Lady Bowes.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, March 8.—Forfarshire, seat of the estates of the Earl of Strathmore, father of Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, will present the lady with an illuminated address on the occasion of her marriage to the Duke of York. The decision to send the prospective bride this gift rather than an expensive present was made at a meeting of the people of the province, at which a letter from Lord Strathmore was read urging that because of the hard times a large sum should not be sent for a present.

Thousands of presents already have been received by the Duke and his fiancée, but many of them have been returned, as it is the custom for the royal family not to accept a gift from anyone not personally known.

CASE AGAINST SHERIFF DROPPED

Charge of Letting U. S. Prisoner Leave His Custody Dismissed.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 8.—The case against Sheriff Frank Smith of De Kalb County, charged with permitting a Federal prisoner to leave his custody, was stricken from the docket of the Federal court here yesterday, after the grand jury had refused to indict him. Homer, Fred and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leard, arrested on the charge of violating the prohibition laws at the same time Smith was arrested, will be tried here before Judge A. L. Reeves Monday morning.

A Government officer declares it is the belief of the grand jury that Sheriff Smith did not know liquor was being sold from the jail. At the time Federal officers visited Mayville and arrested Smith and the others accused, a quantity of liquor was found in the jail.

BRITISH HOPE DEBT
WRANGLE IS ENDED
BY BALFOUR TALK

Government Declared to Be Satisfied With Outline of England's Viewpoint in House of Lords.

NO RENUNCIATION
OF NOTE PLANNED

Speaker Maintained That He Held "Less Commercial View" Than the American Ambassador.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, March 8.—The Earl of Balfour's defense in the House of Lords yesterday of his now famous note concerning the inter-Allied war debts may be taken as the final curtain on the wrangling over these debts. If the hopes of the British Government are realized, according to statements in official circles today, it is declared that those who expect the British Government to renounce formally and explicitly any part of the note as suggested by Ambassador Harvey are certain to be disappointed. Harvey departing today for a vacation of two weeks at the seashore.

Spoke on Own Behalf.
It is emphasized that Lord Balfour spoke entirely on his own behalf, without Government authority or responsibility, but, at the same time, it is pointed out that Foreign Secretary Curzon was on hand with a portfolio of data regarding the debts, ready to follow Lord Balfour and contradict any of his statements which might be unacceptable to the Government. The fact that Lord Curzon left the House and that the session was adjourned as soon as Balfour's speech was finished, is taken as an indication that the Government was satisfied with his outline of the British viewpoint.

Abandoning his custom of speaking extempore, Lord Balfour took his usual care in the explanation, justifying himself with copious notes, and thus signaling his recognition of the delicacy of the task confronting him, and, as is also usual with him, he dealt gracefully and tactfully with the subject, in order to leave no room for misunderstanding.

Quotes Passage.
Reminding the House that when the note was originally prepared it was dealing with "the most difficult, the most dangerous and the most serious question of international indebtedness," he quoted the passage in Ambassador Harvey's objection to it.

"The United States insisted, in substance, if not in form, that though our allies were to spend the money it was only on our security that they were prepared to lend."

He declared that he could find nothing either misleading or obscure in the passage. He attributed the whole trouble first to the difference of view between America and England regarding how far financing the war should be a great co-operative effort, and second to the fact that the United States Government when it came into the war, did not see its way to adopt the British suggestion that "as we had borne the main burden of financing the European allies during the early years of the war, America, who came fresh into the great struggle, might relieve us of that part of our difficulties."

Does Not Question U. S. Decision.
Balfour pointed out that had America adopted this suggestion there would have been no American loan to Great Britain and any controversy would have been avoided and international arrangements would have followed another course. He repudiated any idea of questioning the American decision, but said it involved Great Britain in continuing to bear a double burden.

We explained to the American Government that we should be able to find all the dollars necessary to purchase our own war material without borrowing from the United States or anybody else," he said. "The American Government had seen its way clear to adopt this plan there would, of course, have been no loan, and the many international arrangements would have followed another course. But for reasons which I am the last person to question and which were doubtless amply sufficient, the American Government declined to adopt our proposals."

Summarizes Situation.
The result was that Great Britain had to borrow in America, using the money thus obtained to pay American creditors and employing British resources thus set free to aid Great Britain's allies. In other words, the American producer obtained his money, the American lender got his security, and our allies were helped through their financial difficulties and we obtained their promise to pay."

Turkey's Washington and His Bride

MUSTAFA KEMAL AND WIFE.

KEMAL, known to the Young Turks, the liberal party now in full control of the country, as Turkey's Washington, because he is seeking the complete independence of his land from all foreign domination, recently was married at a great celebration at his villa in Smyrna.
His bride, Mile. Latife, has been co-spicuously associated with the liberal movement, and the fondness of
the pair for each other developed
from their being thrown together by
a great deal in their struggle for independence. They seek a Government
for Turkey as nearly along Western
lines as is possible for that country.
Kemal has announced that he will

tain no harem. He believes in equal rights for women.

which objection has been taken. I cannot help feeling, however, that after all there may be a deeper difference between the American Ambassador and myself on this subject than any mere criticism or rejoinder concerning one particular phrase in the original document would lead one to suspect. I think perhaps the difference lies rather deeper.

"Less Commercial View."
"The American Ambassador, as I understand, regards the financial arrangement between the partners in the great war as so many isolated undertakings, to be separately considered and carried through one by one as occasion offers. This policy in his view, is necessary, if the sanctity of contract is to be maintained."

"I myself am inclined to a somewhat less commercial view. The extraordinary circumstances of the war, the magnitude of the co-operative effort made by the allied and associated Powers might seem to remove the financial arrangements into a sphere where the ordinary categories debtor and creditor, though still valid, could hardly be deemed to be a sufficient basis."

"Both these views can be held by honorable men; I do not propose to criticize them, still less to criticize those who differ from them. But one final observation I will make.
If, as I suppose, it is the first of these competing views which commends itself to the feeling of the United States, the uncontented and incontestable legal rights of that country could not have been enforced in a manner less likely to injure the happy relations which I am glad to say prevailed between the two peoples."

"Good Thing If Discussion Were Dropped," Says English Paper.

(Copyright, 1923.)
LONDON, March 9.—The Manchester Guardian, commenting upon Lord Balfour's answer to Ambassador Harvey, says editorially:
"It seems to us a little unfortunate that the American Ambassador should have challenged and virtually asked the British Government to withdraw certain passages in the Balfour note of last August. Our debt to America has now been debated on terms which probably do not satisfy one party
more than they do the other. Negotiations were conducted in a spirit of mutual good will, and since we have agreed as to the terms of payment it probably would be wise not to argue further about their abstract justice."
"It should be sufficient that we recognize their neutrality. But Mr.
Harvey asks for more. We do not see that the note, even as it stands, is misleading. It would probably be a good thing if the discussion were allowed to drop."

Membership in the League

SAYS TRIBUNAL CAN'T

Jurisdiction Limited to Those Questions Which Nations
Agree to Submit, Speaker Asserts.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 9.—President Harding's proposal that the United States accept membership in the Permanent Court of International Justice was assailed last night by Senator Johnson, Republican, California, leader of the Senate irreconcilables as a first "false step" toward membership in the League of Nations.
Speaking before the Bronx Board of Trade, the California Senator declared the demand for American participation in European affairs recently was made at a great celebration at his villa in Smyrna.
His bride, Mile. Latife, has been co-
spicuously associated with the liberal movement, and the fondness of
the pair for each other developed
from their being thrown together by
a great deal in their struggle for independence. They seek a Government
for Turkey as nearly along Western
lines as is possible for that country.
Kemal has announced that he will be a one-wife man and will maintain no harem. He believes in equal rights for women.

"The demand that America join
the League of Nations is a demand
for the beautiful world picture of an economic conference and the great moral weight of the United States
might play in a top-sy-turvy
league, where, again, our old
legislators, wary of the world
turning with equal fervor to our al-

"Beautiful Word Picture."
"The demand that America join
the League of Nations is a demand
for the beautiful world picture of an economic conference and the great
moral weight of the United States
might play in a top-sy-turvy
league, where, again, our old
legislators, wary of the world
turning with equal fervor to our altruism and our cupidry."

"An international court which substitutes the rule of law for that of power, and the domination of justice for armed might, is a noble and an appealing sound. To argue that just as courts determine issues between individuals, it is logical that they should determine international disputes is to argue that the moral weight of the United States might play in a top-sy-turvy
league, where, again, our old
legislators, wary of the world
turning with equal fervor to our al-
truism and our cupidry."

"But what is not said and what is not understood is that the so-called international court is no court at all as court is commonly understood. It is little more than what exists with our arbitration treaties.
It does not function like the ordinary courts with which we are familiar. It cannot have before it recalcitrant countries, nor can it, if it assume jurisdiction of disputes between nations. It is a mere arbitral tribunal in which nations may submit disputes to them, and only those questions, which the parties themselves agree to submit,
can be heard at all. Great Britain, France, Italy, and Japan have refused to submit to a compulsory jurisdiction, reserving to themselves the right to decide when and whether any questions are interesting to them. This is the situation which is to prevent war in the future, is denied in its inception by the great nations of the earth the right or the power to act upon any questions, which may be the breeders of wars, and the consent of these nations is needed."

EDUCATIONAL APPROPRIATION
BILL PASSED BY THE HOUSE

Measure Goes to the Senate Where It Is Subject to Revision by Amendment.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, March 9.—
The educational appropriation bill providing $6,547,738 for all State educational institutions has passed by the House today. It now goes to the Senate where it is subject to revision by amendment.

The bill provides $3,531,548 for the State university at Columbia, an increase of about $250,000 over the appropriation of two years ago.
Other appropriations in the bill
for: Kirkville State Teachers' College, $406,500; Warrensburg State
Teachers' College, $386,176; Cape Girardeau State Teachers' College,
$372,784; Springfield State Teachers' College, $380,000; Maryville State
Teachers' College, $460,000; Lincoln University at Jefferson City, $174,- 720.

The elementary appropriation bill, providing $1,545,120 for support of six State hospitals and for salaries and expenses of the board of managers, also was passed by the House today. It appropriates $50,000 for salary and expenses of the board, $221,700 for State Hospital No. 1 at Fulton; $157,200 for State Hospital
No. 2 at St. Joseph; $172,000 for State Hospital No. 3 at Nevada;
$512,000 for the Colony for Feeble-Minded at Marshall; and $264,800 for the Missouri State Sanitarium at Mount Vernon.

Painter's Granary Bill Passes.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, March 9.—
The Senate today passed Senator Painter's bill, requiring that all private elevators receive all grain offered them and issue warehouse receipts for it. Painter said the farmer could borrow money on the receipt and would not be forced to sell his grain on a low market. When considered last night, the bill failed to pass, but the vote was reconsidered
today and the action reversed.

NOTES EXCHANGED BY U. S.
AND BRITAIN IN NEWCASTLE
CONSUL CASE MADE PUBLIC

Correspondence Shows America to Have Adhered to Conclusion That Charges Against Its Officials Were Not Substantiated.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 9.—Further light was shed on the divergent positions taken by the United States and British Governments in the Newcastle consulate incident in the publication today of what was on the case by both Governments along with the last British note and the entire series of American communications.
The documents on the American side of the case were made public by the State Department immediately after the British embassy by direction of the Foreign Office, had issued with the text of its last note,
a statement explaining that it had not "invited a discussion of the grounds" upon which the British Government withdrew its recognition of Consul Slater and Vice Consul Brooks. To remove what was regarded as a misapprehension on this point, the statement said the reasons for the action taken were conveyed to the United States Government merely in compliance with the existing commercial convention between the two Governments.

Chief Point at Issue.

While the correspondence showed the American Government to have adhered throughout to its conclusion that the charges had not been substantiated, it was plainly revealed that its position in defense of the consular officers was based primarily on the circumstance that the charges were made by a private citizen. For this the British Government, in the note made public which was signed by Lord Curzon and dated Dec. 27, disclaimed all responsibility.

Information Called Inadequate.

Observation was raised also that the committee had no information on which to base a decision on priority in construction. The $10,277,500 outline carried no recommendations on the order in which work should be started. Members asserted they had no data on the relative importance and immediate need of the projects, and therefore could not designate those to be started first. It also was pointed out that the program for the first year should be held within $3,000,000, under a campaign pledge that $3,000,000 would be the maximum bond issue the first year.

Source of Delay Cleared Up.

This source probably will clear up one source of delay in reaching a construction start on the public improvement program. Several department heads have stated they were delaying making complete plans for the bond issue work until the committee determined what should be started first. This would eliminate spending time now on plans for work that would be done in the latter part of the 10-year program.

On the other hand the committee has been waiting for presentation of data on the work. At a meeting
Feb. 21, Acting Chairman Scullin
asked that the department heads present briefs on the work under their departments, showing what plans had been prepared, recommendations on the work, and information which would aid the committee in determining what should be started first. This request was repeated by the Mayor in an address before the Board of Public Service, urging "more speed" in getting the work under way.

Statement of Kinsey.

President Kinsey of the Board of Public Service told the committee the $10,277,500 outline had been intended as a tentative program, and said ordinances would be placed before the committee later.

Three ordinances involving preliminary work were approved by the committee. One, presented by Kinsey, would direct filing of a suit for condemnation of the Memorial Plaza site as soon as possible. The committee suggested inclusion of an additional clause which would enable the city to acquire the fee simple or absolute ownership of the ground, as well as condemn the use.

The Memorial Plaza includes 10
city blocks fronting the City Hall-Municipal Courts Building group, and provides sites for the new Courthouse, Municipal Auditorium and Memorial Building.

Early filing of the condemnation suit, Kinsey said, would put an end to the delay.

Senate Majority Accepts Amendments to Bill Creating New Director of Revenue and Disbursements.

HOUSE PASSES BILL
ENDING COMMISSION

Complete Retreat From the Position Taken Several Weeks Ago by the Democratic Legislators.

By CURTIS A. BUTTS.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 9.—
The revolt of a small group of Democratic Senators from St. Louis and Kansas City yesterday afternoon forced the Democratic majority in the Senate to accept amendments making vital changes in the bill creating a director of revenue and disbursements. Virtually all the powers of the present tax commission which is to be abolished were saved to the director of the amendment.

Starting out with a bill which specifically directed that the director should have no duties connected with the assessment of property and should have no power of recommendation regarding assessments to the State Board of Equalization, the majority Senators wound up with a measure specifically giving that authority to him.

It was a complete retreat from the position taken by the Democrats several weeks ago that all vestige of the tax commission should be abolished for political reasons, the Senators thinking there was a demand from rural sections of the State that the commission be done away with.

Repeat Enacted by House.

While the Senate was receding from its position on its bill creating the new department, the House was busy passing the bill abolishing the tax commission, which passed the Senate several days ago, and also passing the economy bills of the Senate caucus program.

Several days ago Republicans led by Senator Irwin of Jefferson City, forced the acceptance of amendments to the new departmental bill, substituting a bipartisan board of two for the one director provided in the caucus measure. When the bill was called up yesterday afternoon for engrossment Senator Harris of St. Louis, a substitute for the entire bill, restoring the one director of the standing objections by Irwin that the proceedings were irregular, Harris was permitted to submit his substitute.

The first amendment of importance was submitted by Senator Brookshire, and was aimed to weaken the bill from its even then weak condition by striking out two sections which authorized the director to investigate conditions in State departments and to submit to the Legislature recommendations for increased efficiency. Senator McCaw-age the bill amendment would damage the bill as adopted without out much debate.

New Section Adopted.

Then came the amendment by Senator Proctor, Republican, adding a new section stipulating that the director should compile for the Board of Equalization statistics of the values of all assessed valuation or real estate and personal property in the counties of the State, and empowering him to present to the board facts showing inaccuracies of assessments
by County Assessors.

The real purpose of the bill to abolish the Tax Commission was to get away from exactly that provision in the present law. "The entire objection from rural Missouri to the Tax Commission was that it had corrected false assessments by County Assessors and had compelled rural counties through its recommendations to the Board of Equalization to accept higher assessments."

With the Proctor amendment incorporated in the measure there is very little ground for public criticism of the bill, and it probably will be passed without much more debate.
Its effect is merely to change the name of the Tax Commission to Director of Revenue and Disbursements and to decrease the number of commissioners from three to one.

Change Readily Accepted.

Proctor's amendment was readily accepted by Senator Harris, and nearly all the Senators, Democrats and Republicans, voted for it. It avoided the possibility that Kinney, Brogan and Casey would be forced to break with their Democratic colleagues in that it came to the position they have privately taken that the bill should not be a "backward step from the progress made during the past six years in taxation matters. While they never had publicly said they would revolt from the attempt to get caucus action for the bill, there was an understanding in Jefferson City that they did not feel they were bound to support the public by the embassy is in reply to this communication. It asserts that the original notification of July 18 "was intended as a friendly hint to the United States Government to transfer those officials (at the Newcastle Consulate) to other posts, since they were no longer persons grata to his majesty's Government," and that the month delay in cancellation of the exequatur was granted for that purpose.

"The purpose of this action," the British note continued, "was precisely to avoid that publicity which Mr. Harvey appears to deplore in the second and fourth paragraphs of his note for which his majesty's Government must entirely disclaim responsibility."

The British note pointed out that the Washington Government had been furnished "with an indication of the reasons for the contemplated action against Slater and Brooke in order to show that 'no unfriendly motive underlay the decision,' and because it was hoped 'a frank exchange of views' would lead to 'whatever new regulations might be necessary' to prevent similar incidents with relation to either British or American Consuls."

Against Review of Conclusion. "It was not thought," the note said, "nor could it be admitted, that there should be any question of reviewing the conclusions to which his majesty's Government had come after a full consideration of all the facts."

It had been noted, the British note said, that the United States Government had drawn from its own investigations "conclusions different from those drawn by his majesty's Government, but while regretting this difference of opinion, his majesty's Government feels bound to adhere to their original opinion."

It was reiterated that the British Government regarded its information against Slater and Brooke as "entirely accurate in substance and warrant the cancellation of the exequatur."

The British note said there appeared to be an American assumption that "a legal case had to be made out" against the Consular officials before recognition could be withdrawn, and declared this assumption at variance with international practice and American precedents.

Source of the Affidavits. The affidavits, of which unsigned copies had been transmitted to Washington, it said, "were presented to the foreign office by individuals whose truthfulness is not doubted by his majesty's Government."

In his communication of Nov. 9, Ambassador Harvey referred to a British proposal that "identical instructions to consuls defining their duties in respect to national shipping" should be issued by the two governments. He said while the United States Government did not consider this as having a bearing upon the settlement of the Newcastle incident, it would be pleased after disposition of that incident to discuss the conclusion of a "consular convention" with Great Britain.

In that connection, the State Department made public instructions to American Consuls sent out under date of December 29 and which contain the following specific injunction:

"Applications for consular services, such as certifying invoices, acknowledgments, authentications, and passport visas, unless they involve specifically for the information, should not be approached on the subject of the facilities of American passenger vessels."

At another point the circular instructs consuls to "confine their activities in behalf of steamship companies to investigating and reporting upon shipping matters and answering satisfactorily any proper inquiry relating thereto which may be received."

ASSERTS CHARGES WERE "TRUMPED UP"

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, March 2.—David Adams, Labor member of Parliament for the western district of Newcastle, and also a prominent shipowner, said yesterday he had personal knowledge that the charges against the former American consular officials at Newcastle were "trumped up" on behalf of a certain British steamship line and that he was finally convinced the British Government was unable to substantiate a single allegation which formed the basis of its action in withdrawing the exequatur of the officials.

"I have personal knowledge," Adams declared, "that a certain British steamship company sent men to the Newcastle consulate and attempted again and again, as bona fide travelers, to inveigle both the Consul and Vice Consul into refusing to grant visas unless they traveled by American lines."

"In every case, according to the evidence I have been able to get, they were unable to do so, and either the Consul or the Vice Consul."

Adams ridiculed the Government for submitting unsigned affidavits as evidence to prove its allegations, saying:

"Such documents would not be considered evidence in any court of the civilized world. If there were really 20 or 40 individual cases of unfair discrimination, as the Government claims, surely there could be found a few persons of that number willing to have their names used if they were disinterested travelers."

measure as it came from the committee, it being an entirely different bill from the one on which caucus action had been taken.

While the bill will undoubtedly be passed, there is some doubt that it ever will go into effect, as there are already reports that it is to be subverted to a vote under the referendum provision of the Constitution. This action will be instituted, it is said, by a group of assessors of the State, who will be deprived of thousands of dollars of fees and of much patronage by a provision which will take from them the supervision of income tax assessments and place it in the director created by the bill.

Caucus Bills Passed in House. The bills of the Senate caucus program passed in the House were to abolish the traveling auditors under the State Auditor; to abolish the Tax Commission; to abolish the hotel and beverage inspection department and put their duties in a food and drug inspection department, to stop the publication of Secretary of State of the list of automobile owners and to make the Blue Book the official manual of Missouri.

There was little opposition to any of these bills and all passed with the full Democratic vote of the House with the exception of one or two, all the Republicans voted against the bills except those abolishing the hotel and beverage departments, which were passed by unanimous votes.

There was some objection to the measure stopping the publication of lists of automobile owners, some members insisting the lists were of great value to the Police Department and Sheriff of the State in the apprehension of automobile thieves. The House gave the names of owners and distinguishing marks on automobiles. The expense of the publication, however, was about $45,000 a year, which the majority said was not justified by the service rendered.

to efforts to inflate the value of the property to be taken. He said the ordinance would be introduced in the Board of Aldermen at the next meeting.

Minor Ordinances Approved. The committee also approved two ordinances presented by Director Hooke of the Department of Public Utilities, one to appropriate $30,000 for surveys and designing the $5,000,000 electric street lighting system, and $10,000 for experimental lighting work, to determine the best type of light to install. Different types of equipment are to be installed at points in the city, to test the lighting efficiency, and enable the public to see them before one type is adopted for the whole system.

Money for these appropriations, if the ordinance is approved by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, and passed by the Board of Aldermen, would come from the $300,000 unexpended balance of the 1920 bond issue of $1,000,000 for electric lighting.

Hooke also recommended establishment of a revolving fund of $50,000 to enable installation of the final type of lights on streets to be reconstructed before the general lighting system is built, and where it will be necessary to move the present system to the new curb lines. These installations, Hooke said, would fit into the new system. The committee approved the plan and an appropriation ordinance will be drafted.

"If America is finally to be driven in, let's go in with head up and flag flying. Do not permit our proud nation today timidly to enter one concealed portal, tomorrow surreptitiously to sneak in another, and while pretending we are going some other place, ultimately when too late, when the last irrevocable step has been taken, we cannot extricate ourselves, find our country unknown to a member of that which it has so emphatically repudiated."

MAN IN AUTO KILLED BY CAR

Edwardsville Resident Struck at Scene of Other Accidents.

John Berry, 23 years old, a son of a Granite City house furnishings company, was instantly killed at 5:15 p. m. yesterday, when the automobile in which he was driving to his home in Edwardsville was struck at Dickman's crossing, about five miles west of Edwardsville, by an Indianapolis car.

Witnesses said Berry was driving about 20 miles an hour and did not stop for the crossing. The machine was dragged 400 feet, and Berry was thrown about 75 feet. The road approaches the tracks there in view of the right-of-way for some distance, the land being level, but the crossing has been the scene of several accidents.

Berry, who is survived by his widow and a child, formerly lived at Fredericktown, Mo., and burial will be there.

New Members of Relief Committee. Otto J. Gosrau, chairman of the Campaign Committee of the St. Louis Relief Association, which is seeking $150,000 in St. Louis for the purchase of food for starving children in Germany and Austria, today announced that Archbishop Glennon and Rabbi Harrison had become members of the committee. The campaign will open next Friday at a meeting to be held at Hotel Statler.

New River Packet Due Monday. The "Tennessee Belle," a new river boat built for the St. Louis & Tennessee River Packet Co. at Paducah, Ky., and recently launched, will arrive in St. Louis Monday. She will ply between St. Louis and Paducah Landing, Tenn., where the Shiloh battleground of the Civil War is situated. The packet's first passenger cruise will be taken April 1, when she will carry 150 Civil War veterans to the Shiloh field for a two-days' convention.

AMERICAN HISTORY FOR CHILDREN

Finally Yielding to Our Wishes, England Signed Treaty in 1846, Making 49 Degrees the Northern Boundary of the U. S.

The Telegraph Is Established.

By HENDRIK VAN LOON,
 Author of "The Story of Mankind"

SOME time ago I told you how Capt. Meriwether Lewis and Lieut. William Clark had set out to explore the Northwest, and how they sailed down the Columbia River and built a fort at its mouth, laying claim to the country in the name of their Government. Upon this journey of discovery of Lewis and Clark rested our Government's claim to the great territory called Oregon, extending from California to latitude 50 degrees 40 minutes.

England also laid claim to Oregon basing her rights upon its discovery by Capt. Cook, who in 1778 sailed up the Pacific coast as far north as latitude 54 degrees. Spain, who probably had been the first to sail along the coast, had claimed it but relinquished all such claims to the United States when we purchased Florida. And Russia had insisted for a while that her Alaskan possessions extended down into Oregon, but she, too, had been persuaded in 1824 that they stopped at latitude 54 degrees 40 minutes.

In 1818 the United States and England decided that they would share the Oregon territory for 10 years. When the 10 years was up, the arrangement was renewed for an indefinite time. Oregon was very far away, there were very few settlers, and it did not seem like a very important question. The English settlers were at Vancouver where the Hudson Bay Co. had its fur trading station, and the Americans were scattered along the Columbia River. There were only 400 Americans, all told, by 1841, and they were governed by Dr. John McLoughlin, chief factor of the Hudson Bay Co., who built Fort Vancouver on the north bank of the Columbia as a port whence furs could be shipped all over the world.

The story of the Mexican war has shown you how anxious President Polk was to get hold of the Pacific Coast. He asked England to agree upon latitude 49 degrees as the boundary between English and American possessions, but England refused. Then Polk asked Congress to erect forts in Oregon, and try to extend the laws of the United States over the territory. This would have meant war with England, and as we already had one war on our hands, we were not anxious to start another. But neither was England, as she did not consider the Oregon boundary a very important matter. So finally she yielded to our wishes and in 1846, a treaty was signed, making latitude 49 degrees the northern boundary of the United States, all the way from Northern Minnesota to the Pacific Coast.

But far off as Oregon was, it was in one respect infinitely nearer than it had been only two years before. For it was in 1844 that the telegraph was used for the first time. I do not mean that a squad of workmen immediately began to set up a row of telegraph posts all the way to the Pacific coast; that was to come much later. But the beginning was made and today I can send a message to somebody in Seattle and get an answer back within a few hours.

Samuel Finley Breese Morse, inventor of the telegraph, had graduated from Yale with the class of 1810. He was at first far more interested in art than in science, and for a number of years devoted himself to painting. Then an interest in electricity was awakened in him, and in 1837, on the roof of New York University, he sent the first telegraph message over 1700 feet of copper wire. After many delays, Congress appropriated enough money to build a regular line, and on the 24th day of May, 1844, the first message was flashed between Baltimore and Washington.

RUSSIAN CHRISTMAS A "DAY OF DEITIES" FALL

Jan. 7, as Day Is Calendered by Communists, Marked as Atheistic Holiday.

Special Commemorative of the Post-Dispatch, MOSCOW, Feb. 8.—Christmas day on the Russian calendar, Jan. 7, the day on which this year the young Communists all over Russia staged grotesque antireligious demonstrations, is to be entered on the official records as a permanent holiday under the name of "The Day of the Depositing of the Gods." In addition to the great procession of Communist students in Moscow, Jan. 7, reports from the provinces indicate that in virtually every city and village of Russia these atheist youths held mock celebrations in the churches.

The Government, which in some ways oppressed the churches from the very beginning of the bolshevik revolution, did not, however, take any steps to close churches until this year. In Moscow several of the smaller street chapels before which the faithful were accustomed to bow and cross themselves for many centuries, are now to be closed. It is announced. Workmen at the town of Brjansk have just passed a resolution to deport all of the local clergymen, and the official press, particularly the smaller papers intended for the workmen, now contain daily attacks on religion in general. One of them has inaugurated a campaign against baptism.

Most of the young Communists who are directing the antireligious campaign declare they are sincere atheists, even though most of them have as parents peasants who cross themselves before every shrine, and who even now consider their children as anti-Christ, surely bound for hell and damnation.

An amusing story is told in Moscow of one of these youths who, to absolve himself of the sins of having scoffed at God during the celebration, went to church the next day, confessed his sin, and accepted a heavy penance.

Has Managed Paper 54 Years
By the Associated Press.
COLUMBIA, Mo., March 9.—W. B. Rogers for 54 years has maintained an active interest in the management of the Trenton Republic. The first issue was in 1864, but Rogers did not buy it until 1911. The history of the publication is related in an article, "The Five Cent Family Newspapers in Missouri," by Grace L. Gilmore, published in this month's issue of the Missouri Historical Review.

LIVES WITH BULLET IN HEART

Former German Soldier Described as Medical Phenomenon.

By the Associated Press. BERLIN, March 9.—Charged with embezzlement, there recently appeared in a Berlin court a former German soldier whom a surgeon described as a medical phenomenon. While fighting at the front a bullet entered the man's heart while it was contracting and remains there to this day, moving in exact rhythm with the contraction and expansion of the heart. Had the man been hit half a second later, when the heart was expanding, said on physician, instantaneous death would have been inevitable.

Rail Shop Strikers Held for Trial. By the Associated Press. SHAWNEE, Ok., March 9.—Roy Hendrickson, vice chairman of the Federated Shop Crafts of Shawnee, and four other strikers entered pleas of not guilty when arraigned in Justice Court yesterday on charges of participating in riots here following the railroad shop walkout last summer. Hendrickson, J. L. McClure and M. L. Huddleston made bonds and were released. W. L. Chadrick and Homer Rule were unable to raise bail. Chadrick's bond was fixed at $2000 and Rule's at $1500.

THREE MEN FINED FOR FIGHT WITH PASTOR

Former Teacher and Two Deacons of East St. Louis Church Assessed $25 Each.

Two former deacons and a former Sunday school teacher of the Franklin Park Baptist Church, Sixth street and Bond avenue, East St. Louis, today were fined $25 each, each on charges of disorderly conduct growing out of a fight they engaged in with their pastor, the Rev. Grover C. Cross, last Sunday morning.

They are Luther Shelby, 1013 Pigott avenue; teacher, Ira Perry, 705 Converse avenue, former Sunday school superintendent and deacon, and Henry Ballard, 605 Market avenue, deacon, all of East St. Louis. They were members of the church in good standing until Wednesday night, when they were excluded from membership because of the fight at a church meeting.

Testimony was heard by Justice of the Peace Hickok. The Rev. Mr. Cross testified that Shelby attacked him in a small ante room of the church while Ballard held the door shut and Perry pulled the pastor's feet from under him each time he tried to get up from the floor.

Shelby's defense was that the pastor attacked him first when he had no intention of resorting to violence. Perry and Ballard declared they were mere bystanders and did not strike Cross.

All agreed that the dispute arose over Shelby's enforced retirement as Sunday school teacher. Shelby said he believed the pastor had conspired to split up his class and appoint new teachers. The Rev. Mr. Cross denied this and maintained that Shelby had been a trouble maker.

The three ex-church members will take an appeal from Justice Hickok's decision, they announced.

C. S. Ship Captain Held on Drug Charge

By the Associated Press. GALVESTON, Tex., March 9.—The captain of a United States Shipping Board steamer, now in port, was taken in custody yesterday on charges of violating the Federal narcotic act. The arrest was made in connection with the finding of about $50,000 worth of morphine on Galveston beach last week. The captain was held on a $100 appearance bond. Seven cases of morphine weighing about 500 pounds were found cached in the rocks of the south jetty. The morphine was in small tubes and bore labels in the German language. The vessel whose captain is held had recently returned from a German port.

GETS 10-YEAR TERM FOR MURDER

Man Killed Barber Whose Attention to Wife He Resented.

Clarence Willhight, a dishwasher, 25 years old, of 307 North Fourteenth street, was found guilty of murder in the second degree, by a jury in Judge Grimm's Court yesterday, in connection with the fatal stabbing of Nathan Reichman, a barber, of 212 1/2 Carr street, Aug. 28 and sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary.

Witnesses testified that Willhight had quarreled with Reichman over friendly acts done by the latter for Willhight's wife and six children, from whom Willhight was separated when Reichman stumbled and fell barber shop at the Carr street address. The stabbing occurred in front of the shop, witnesses said, when Reichman stumbled and fell while being pursued by Willhight with a knife. Willhight pleaded self-defense and asserted the stabbing was an accident.

MAY TAKE INTERIOR POST

Former Governor Davis of Idaho Considering Acceptance.
By the Associated Press.
TWIN FALLS, Idaho, March 9.—Former Gov. D. W. Davis of Idaho, will accept an appointment as special assistant to the Secretary of the Interior, tendered by Secretary Work, provided his investigation indicates to him his acceptance will make it possible for him to lend effective assistance toward solution of Western development problems, Davis indicated in a statement today.

COBB'S TAXI MAN GETS JOLT

NEW YORK, March 9.—Charged with having handled Irvin S. Cobb, the author, carelessly, Albert J. Kimbecker, a taxicab chauffeur, got 15 days in the workhouse yesterday from Magistrate Marsh. Cobb said he hired Albert at Forty-seventh street and Sixth avenue last Saturday night to drive him home to 839 Park avenue. Cobb told Magistrate

Marsh he never had such a ride in his life. The ride shook fully a dozen short stories out of his system. Cobb, who is not as stout as he once was, bounced terribly, but when he tapped on the glass and ordered the driver to slow up, the driver didn't, Irvin said.

When the noted humorous writer finally stepped from the cab, he got Patrolman William Sinnott to hand Kimbecker a summons.

Saturday—8 P. M.

Broadcasting the concert of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra at the Odeon.

The hit of the Spanish program given last night at Station K S D was the chorus "La Paloma" sung by 18 fresh young voices accompanied by guitars and mandolins. All the participants of this chorus and orchestra are members of the Club Guadalupano of the Annunciation Parish of St. Louis, which gave the program last night. The singers have been trained by the Rev. Father M. P. Mulhally, pastor of the Annunciation Church.

The entire program was in Spanish and it is hoped that reports soon will come in from Spanish-speaking countries for the benefit of which the concert was given.

This was the first program of the evening. The usual Thursday mid-night program was given at 11:30 o'clock. This was a much more conventional program and gave pleasure to many, according to telephone reports received during the concert.

Tonight there will be two addresses and a short music program given by Miss Josephine Pipkin, pianist, and Miss Madeline Gervig, flutist. These two will be assisted by Marcus Epstein and Mrs. John F. Kiburz.

RUSSIAN WORKERS MEET TO DISCUSS DIFFICULTIES
Wornout Machinery and Declining Production Creating Industrial Crisis in Country.
Special to the Post-Dispatch and Chicago Daily News.
Copyright, 1934.

MOSCOW, March 9.—Russian labor representatives are holding a conference in Moscow to discuss the difficulties that confront them. These labor difficulties are due largely to poor machinery, worn out by non-renewal of parts and lack of repairs; declining production and the demand by the trusts, which now direct industry for a reduction of a basic wage.

In 1917 Moscow had 410,000 workers. Now it has 244,000 and it is estimated that of these 68,000 are unemployed. The loss of efficiency in machinery is strikingly shown in furnace work. In the last few years the furnaces throughout Russia have lost 20 per cent of their heat-producing qualities, owing to lack of repairs.

The question of wages forms one of the prominent subjects of debate. Until now wages have been calculated on a complicated system based upon the prices of leading commodities, the wages rising and falling as prices fluctuated. Now the trusts demand a more elastic system that will enable them to calculate the wage scale according to profits or the losses.

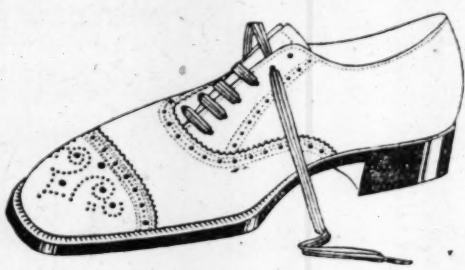

The workers recognize that several of the largest trusts are operating at a loss, their goods costing more to produce than the amount for which they are sold. The workers see that continuing such a condition would be absolutely fatal to industry. The existing scale of industrial wages is from 50 to 80 per cent of the gold ruble value of wages before the war. In some industries, however, wages are in arrears. That is one reason for the failure of the coal and iron industries in the Don Basin.

MAN AND 2 CHILDREN FATALLY BURNED BY GASOLINE EXPLOSION
Blast and Fire Follow Application of Match to Fuel in an Open Grate.

By the Associated Press.
FORESTVILLE, Ga., March 2.—Marcellus Abernathy, 60, and his two children, Mildred, 8, and Clarence, 10, received fatal burns early yesterday at the Abernathy home when the father used gasoline by mistake to start a fire in a bedroom. Mrs. Abernathy received serious burns about the face and body, but doctors say she will recover. The Abernathy's clothing was ignited by the explosion which followed his applying a match to the fuel in an open grate. He staggered out of the house and into the yard, where he rolled on the ground until the flames were extinguished. In the meantime, Mrs. Abernathy fought within the house to put out the flames which enveloped her.

Aroused by the flames and confusion, the other members of the family started to the rescue of the sleeping children who occupied the bedroom with their parents.

Hugh Abernathy, 16, managed to reach the children's bed. The clothing of each were in flames. He picked up both of the children and rushed out of the room. Mildred and Clarence died shortly afterwards. Hugh received minor burns.

Confessed Slayer Admits He Shot Officers After Offering One a Cup of Moonshine Whisky.

By the Associated Press.
FRANKLINTON, La., March 2.—The Washington Parish grand jury, called in special session yesterday by Judge Carter of the District Court, was expected to begin the taking of testimony today in connection with the slaying of Robert Wesley Crain and Wiley Pierce, deputy sheriffs, whose bodies were found Wednesday buried in the swamp of Betsy Creek, eight miles east of here.

Fifty witnesses have been summoned and others are expected to be called. John Murphy, confessed slayer of the two officers, in a new confession, admitted that he shot Crain and Pierce as they rode a moonshine still of which he was part owner.

Murphy said he offered Pierce a cup of the moonshine whisky, and as the deputy sheriff started to drink it, he shot him. Turning quickly, he said, he shot Crain.

COURT ACTION TIES UP CLAYTON ZONING PLAN

Company, Desiring to Build Apartment Houses, Gets Writ Blocking Hearings.

Whether or not apartment houses shall be built in a new subdivision in Clayton, adjoining and running into St. Louis opposite Forest Park, is an issue that has resulted in tying up for the time being at least plans for a zoning law in the county seat.

The Better-Built Home and Mortgage Co., controlling the subdivision, has obtained a temporary writ of prohibition from the Supreme Court of Missouri, stopping the holding of hearings on the tentative zoning ordinance. It also has obtained a writ of mandamus from the St. Louis Court of Appeals, compelling the Clayton Board of Aldermen to certify the subdivision plat so as to make the lots marketable.

Officers of the company had admitted they had plans for apartment houses in the subdivision, which is known as De Mun Park. This aroused citizens of Hillcrest and Hill-Pointe, residential districts to the north and south, respectively, of the De Mun tract. "Tenements," some of them termed modern apartments, and they proceeded to voice their opposition.

Approval Withheld. Subdivision lots may not be sold until the plat is approved by the aldermen. This approval the company could not obtain. In two efforts, although it was pointed out the plat was in conformity with legal requirements. Then the matter was taken to the courts, ending in the writ of mandamus from the St. Louis Court of Appeals, granted Tuesday.

As a result, the Clayton Aldermen are to have a special meeting to-night, at which they are expected to approve the plat.

Meanwhile, about two months ago, the Aldermen passed an ordinance creating a City Plan Commission, modeled after the scheme used in University City. A group of citizens from various parts of the town agreed to defray the major expenses of creating a city plan.

They engaged Harland Bartholomew, engineer of the St. Louis Plan Commission. He drew up the proposed zoning ordinance, for which his fee is said to have been about $1250.

The plan made De Mun Park, one of the "A" residence zone, in which land could be used only for one-family dwellings, churches, schools, libraries or farming purposes. Nearly one half of this tract is across the line, in St. Louis, lying in a first residence zone under the metropolitan plan, where apartments cannot be built.

Constitutionality Attacked. This moved the Better-Built Home & Mortgage Co. to apply for a writ of prohibition, which was granted Wednesday. The ground on which it was asked was that an act of the Legislature in 1921, which permitted a town of Clayton's size to have a City Plan Commission, was unconstitutional. Arguments will be heard at Jefferson City next month as to whether the writ shall be made permanent. Apparently, if the writ is made permanent, the plan scheme for Clayton would be knocked out.

The Clayton City Plan Commission comprises nine members, as follows: The Mayor, city engineer, one of the 10 Aldermen and six citizens, appointed by the Mayor. J. Lionberger Davis of Brentmoor, chairman of the board of the Security National Bank Savings & Trust Co., one of the citizen members of the commission, is its chairman.

He declared today that the recent creation of the proposed zoning scheme was not directed against De Mun Park alone, but was the outgrowth of agitation that has been going on for 11 years or more. He characterized the scheme as an expression of the desire of home owners to keep the county seat a section of homes, with the suburban advantages of plenty of light and pure air.

ADVERTISING Cocoanut Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this cannot possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water, then moisten the hair with water and rub the Mulsified in. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces will last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.

SAGE TEA TURNS
GRAY HAIR DARKIt's Grandmother's Recipe
to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

Better Than Calomel

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dizziness" and that lary feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you are "stuffy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "wake up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

CALLS FOR FREE MILK
INCREASED LAST YEAR

Commission's Report Shows Larger Income for Work Is Likely This Year.

A steadily increasing call upon the St. Louis Pure Milk Commission for free milk for children, a growing tendency on the part of parents to recognize the value of pure milk, and a decrease, for the third consecutive year, in income, were the salient points in the report for 1922, made by H. E. Mortland, secretary, at the annual meeting of the commission yesterday afternoon.

In 1920 about 18 per cent of the milk distributed by the commission was to persons unable to pay for it. By 1921 the percentage had increased to 34. Last year the figure rose to 45.

Everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

An increase in families deserted by the father was held partly responsible, by Mortland, for the need of more free milk last year, but a falling off in the demand for the purchase of modified milk also helped increase the free milk percentage.

Visits by Nurses Helpful.
Visits from nurses and other instruction have enabled many mothers to prepare for themselves this specially modified milk for children. Mortland said, and these women no longer depend upon the commission for their supply. There has also been an increase in maternal nursing, he said.

Figures were cited by the secretary showing that St. Louis lost only 56.8 out of every thousand of its children under one year in 1922. This is the lowest rate ever maintained by any large American city. The rate for 1921, which was 61 out of each thousand was also unusually low.

In addition to the modified milk, the commission prepared at its laboratory at 1726 North Thirteenth street 2881 quarts of cultured milk, an increase of 816 quarts over the 1921 distribution.

The income for the year was $15,425.80, as compared to $16,880.57 in 1921; $18,534.89 in 1920, and $21,270.90 in 1919. The year of 1919, at the peak of the wartime prosperity, was the best in the 19 years' history of the association. Receipts for 1922 compare well with those of pre-war days.

Public contributions, including $1513 given by readers of the Post-Dispatch through the Pure Milk and Ice Fund, reached $10,994, an increase of $2658.27 over 1921. Revenue lost through the decline in sales of modified milk tended to keep the income total down, however.

Benefit From Community Fund.

Expenses for the year were $15,251.23, as compared with $15,882.94 in 1921. There was a balance on hand of $2175.87 at the end of the year, about the same as the year preceding. This balance will carry along the work of the commission until the money raised for it as a participating member of the Community Fund for 1923 is available.

The $5989 coming from the Community Fund, together with the balance on hand and the money to be realized through the sale of modified milk, is expected to make the commission's income for this year about $16,000. As a result, there will be no need for the usual call for subscriptions from the general public.

The $1513 contributed from the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Ice Fund was only part of the $5989 collected through this fund last year, the remainder being used to supply free ice to needy parents, the activity for which the annual fund was created. This work will be continued.

Supervising Milk Production.

Secretary Mortland's report included an account of the work done by the commission in supervising the production of certified milk. "This is pure clean milk, produced on dairy farms on which all persons connected with the work have undergone tests to show themselves non-carriers of disease. The milk is cooled and bottled at once, with no loss of vitamins, and is rushed immediately to the larger dairies here, where it is sold to parents of children desiring the most nourishing and sanitary milk," Mortland said.

Last year 294,999 gallons of this certified milk was sold, or about 1 per cent of all the milk consumed in St. Louis. This is a gain over previous years, but at least 5 per cent of the total consumption should be of this certified product, Mortland declared, in urging doctors and parents to give it greater use.

The report gave credit to the St. Louis Provision Association, the Post-Dispatch and all contributors for valuable assistance.

All the officers, together with the nine members of the board of directors whose terms expired, were re-elected. The officers are: Dr. George M. Tuttle, president; Dr. John Zahorsky, first vice president; Mrs. Philip N. Moore, second vice president; Dr. Adrien Bleyer, third vice president; George M. Pyle, treasurer and Mortland, secretary.

$40,000,000 CUT IN BRITISH NAVY ESTIMATE

Washington Treaties Permit Reduction of 20,000 Officers and Men by April 1.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, March 8.—In explanation of the navy estimates for 1923-24, which shows a reduction of more than £5,000,000 ($40,000,000), it is stated that the figures were prepared on the assumption that the Washington naval treaty would be ratified by all the signatory Powers. The gross estimates are given as £61,401,165, as compared with £69,476,657 of the previous year. The net figure is £58,000,000, as compared with the previous estimate of £64,882,700.
An explanatory white paper issued by Lieutenant-Colonel Amery, First Lord of the Admiralty, says England does not propose to lay down any new ships in 1923 or 1924, but that a small sum has been appropriated for preparatory work on submarine construction which the Admiralty hopes to begin next year.
Reduction in the personnel of the fleet by 20,000 officers and men will be completed by April 1. It is expected, except that 140 officers and 1000 men will be retained pending the Government's decision on the Admiralty's proposal that the navy hereafter provide the personnel for its aerial forces.

Personnel of 99,500.
"With regard to the personnel of the fleet, the number to be voted, 99,500, is slightly in excess of that intended," says the paper. The members of the naval staff now number 60, as compared with 77 in 1921 and 336 in 1918.
Lieutenant-Colonel Amery says the estimates bring out the full effect of the program of reductions initiated immediately upon acceptance by Great Britain of the Washington agreement.
"This act of faith, though involving risks to which the Admiralty has been fully alive," he adds, "has secured for the taxpayer immediate fruit in large economies, which otherwise would have been deferred."
"Continuance of the policy of postponing schemes involving the outlay of capital, even though they would make for economy, and of spreading over a period of years the accumulation of reserves and stores for war purposes, he declared. "Can only be justified by the seriousness of the financial situation and the expectation of a general atmosphere of tranquillity in the sphere of naval armaments."

Work on the new battleships Nelson and Rodney, the last capital ships Great Britain can lay down until 1931 under the Washington agreement will require £4,000,000 for 1923 and 1924.
A supplemental memorandum issued by the Admiralty states that the political value of the naval forces employed by Great Britain in the Mediterranean during the last year needs no emphasis.
Island No Longer Maintained.
The memorandum also sets forth that in pursuance of the policy of retrenchment it is no longer necessary to retain Ascension Island in the Atlantic Ocean for strategic purposes. For a century Ascension Island has been administered by the Admiralty as though it were a ship, but it has now been annexed to the St. Helena and is under the care of the Colonial office.
Another section of the memorandum says: "The withdrawal of the South American squadron, due to financial, undoubtedly has been detrimental to our general interests in South America. It is the earnest hope of the Admiralty that it will be possible either to reinstitute the squadron or to arrange frequent visits to South American waters in the near future."
"The successful visits of the cruisers Hood and Repulse to Brazil have again demonstrated the peace value of the British navy, politically and commercially."

$500,000 TO BE SOUGHT TO ERECT COUNTRY DAY SCHOOL

Campaign for Funds for New Institution in County to Open
On April 2.
A campaign to raise $500,000 in donations for the erection of a country day school at Price road and Clayton car line, St. Louis County, to be known as the John Burroughs School, will be held April 2 to 7.
Louis H. Egan, president of the Union Electric Light & Power Co., is president of the Board of Trustees of the school.
The school is to be a self-supporting institution, an annual tuition of $500 being charged. Scholarships will be granted, however, which will lessen this fee in some cases.
"A site of 15 acres has been purchased and preliminary plans have been drawn," Egan said. "We expect to break ground March 24. It is hoped the first building will be ready in time to open school in the fall term next October."
The proposed school is to be co-educational, beginning with pupils in the seventh grade and offering courses preparatory for college and university entrance. Wilford M. Alkin, former headmaster of the Scarborough School at Scarborough-on-Hudson, New York, has been retained as headmaster.
Mrs. George Gelhorn, 4366 McPherson avenue, secretary of the board, said the movement was started about a year ago for this school by a group of parents who desired such an institution here and to add to its eminence St. Louis already has achieved as an educational center.
J. Lionberger Davis, an attorney, is chairman of the campaign committee.

ADVERTISMENT. RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples Are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin Pores.
Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.
It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate; then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities, which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.
The surest way to clear the skin of pimples, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will help prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.
Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually helps make pimples disappear.

SURE WAY TO GET RID OF DANDRUFF

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.
By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.
You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

Strangler Lewis Through as Mat Attraction Here; Stecher Sought For Coliseum Show on March 20

Local Promoters View Low Attendance at Koloff Match as Indication That Strangler's Popularity Has Waned—Champion Willing to Meet Anyone, if Guaranteed Enough.

By John E. Wray,
Sports Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

St. Louis probably has seen the last of World's Wrestling Champion Ed Lewis, the Choke'em Charley of the mat game. Local promoters, after the semi-frost that greeted the Lewis-Koloff match, expressed the view that St. Louis was tired of the Strangler and that a new actor would be brought to play leading wrestling roles, for this season at any rate.

On the same night Billy Sandow, Lewis' manager, told a Post-Dispatch representative that while Lewis would be glad to wrestle in St. Louis against any opponent that could be named, he would not consent to oppose first rank men for the same sums that had been paid him here to meet the opponents thus far chosen for him.

The best house at any wrestling event here thus far totaled $16,650. That was when the "Old Man" Zbyzsko and Lewis contended. As Sandow expects a guarantee for Lewis larger than the total gate receipts of the Zbyzsko bout, it is obvious that the parting of the ways has been reached. St. Louis is no longer satisfied to see Lewis in exhibitions and can't pay to see him meet title candidates of his own merit.

So, write "finis" after the Lewis chapter for the season.

Stecher May Play "Leads." With the exit of Lewis, enter Joe Stecher, former world's champion and a wrestler of greater versatility than the present titleholder. If not quite of his enormous bulk, Joe is being sought for a show to be held March 20. The local management is at present dickering with Stecher.

Joe and his manager are now in California, at present the favorite stamping ground of the neck-wringers. Stecher will probably be matched with Gardini, the spectacular Italian party who shook hands with himself in the preliminary at the Coliseum Wednesday night.

As for Lewis, his manager confidently expects that the big fellow will be matched in New York for a guarantee of not less than $25,000 and probably more with Stecher, the younger Zbyzsko or some other leading wrestler. He may be "anybody in the world" according to Sandow, except Man Piestina. Against Piestina and his manager, Lewis and Sandow have a bitter grudge, and make serious charges against both.

Lewis Bars Man Piestina. "Lewis is a clean man with a reputation. He will retire before going on the mat with this Piestina. I will show you why."

Sandow exhibited some clippings, and records to show that the allegations he made did not originate in his mind. "We would meet any other man gladly, for the right money, but why should a world's wrestling champion be compelled to accept $10,000 for a match against the pick of the country, when he can get sure as high as $20,000? Lewis will not cheapen himself in this manner, and that is final. He doesn't have to wrestle. He has made a competence and can retire."

Lewis has appeared here six times during the past season, and has taken approximately $27,000 out of the city. His last show was viewed by one of the poorest attendances, the house yielding only $1500.

PRINCIPAL FIVE WINS DECIDING GAME FROM CLEVELAND BASKETBETS

Principia Academy's basketball quietest broke its losing streak yesterday afternoon by winning from the Cleveland High five, 11 to 20, in Howard Gym.

The contest yesterday was the final of the three-game series between the two teams. Principia won the first game on Jan. 19 by a 24 to 17 score. Coach Fessenden's players came back and captured the second contest on Feb. 3. This game was close, Cleveland winning, 21 to 20.

In yesterday's encounter Coach Marquand was forced to use two substitutes in place of Rice and Pettit, who were unable to play.

STUFFY MINNIS SIGNS WITH BOSTON BRAVES

BOSTON, March 9.—John "Stuffy" Minnis of Gloucester signed a contract yesterday to play first base for the Boston Braves for the next two years. The local National League club, in engaging Minnis, after his release by the Cleveland Americans, who found a $14,000 contract too much to carry, bid against most of the clubs in the major league and several minors. It was understood Minnis will go South within a week.

Mat Champion's Total Earnings in Six Shows Here Less Than $30,000

WRESTLING profits are far below those of boxing, as the earnings of Champion Ed Lewis in six matches here will show. Lewis' largest single receipts were $10,000—for the Zbyzsko match. He received $7500 for the London show and averaged about $2500 for each of four other exhibitions, an approximate total of $27,500 for his season's work here.

Lewis contends that this reward is a mere pittance, compared to that paid to boxers. Even fly-weight pugilists receiving from $10,000 to $20,000 for making their titles in New York. As world's champion, Lewis maintains that he is on a par with Dempsey and Knorr, who are paid $100,000 or more for championship contests.

Dempsey, however, has not cheapened himself by one-night-stand performances after the manner of Lewis—which may explain the high cost of viewing the greatest fighter on the globe, and the low demand for wrestling.

In only two events here did Lewis meet an opponent who appeared capable of extending him.

All the local matches thus far started last night that he thought he would retire as referee. Asked if this was on account of anything wrong in the events, Baptiste replied: "I had seen anything wrong I naturally would have left the ring or quit the men. I'm just quitting that."

Lewis last appearance here left the usual train of gossip as to whether the show was exhibition or contest. Opinions of leading authorities here—all of whom testified with the "but don't use my name" limitation—was that Lewis had no chance whatever to prevent Lewis from picking his head in chancery, deliberately allowing him headlock after headlock.

The scene shifted in the second round and testimony differed as to whether it went over an hour, because Lewis' indecency or to his refusal making a fight of it. Al Wasson, former lightweight champion, was one of those who thought Lewis had all he could attend to in the second fall.

Koloff Promising, Wasson Says

"It was about the best fall I have seen wrestled in this city, in some time," Wasson told the Post-Dispatch representative. "The men were in excellent and the spectators were out. I think Koloff scared Lewis, on one or two occasions, and he was obviously able to keep Lewis from getting a hold on him when he wanted to, up to the finish."

"Koloff is young and I think he will be heard from again as he graduates into the big league, and if he gives him a fair chance he will be near the top in a year or two."

The fans did not agree with Wasson. The crowd spent much of the hour occupied by the ring urging the wrestlers to "get busy" and "make a real one" and "tinsel applauded."

Hornsby Only Regular Chosen to Face Big League Foes in South

Rickey Gives Out Battlefront He Expects to Use in a Majority of Training Camp Games Against Major League Teams—Blades Temporarily Being Used at Third Base.

By Herman Wecke,
Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

BRADENTOWN, Fla., March 9.—That Manager Rickey is going to be as much as possible of his young players was manifested yesterday, when he made the announcement that the recruits would be used in a majority of the exhibition games with the various major league clubs, which start next week.

Rickey gave out his probable battle front, which reads as follows: Bottomley & McDermott 1b. Hornsby, 2b. Blades, 3b. Holm or Freigau, ss. Mueller, Dyer and Freigau, outfield.

McCurdy will do the bulk of the catching, while Wigginton, Slick and Grimm are favored to do the pitching in the game with the Phillies at Leesburg, next Wednesday. If Holm is unable to play, then Rickey will have to change his outfield, as this will necessitate sending Freigau to shortstop. But, no matter what happens, Freigau will be in the game unless an injury sets in. Although Rickey is always "fiddling" this player for some shortcoming, he thinks mighty well of him and wants to give him all the work possible.

Lately Rickey has been "on" Freigau for the way he threw the ball to the second baseman on double plays. Rickey feels Freigau that his throw is not hard enough. Yesterday though, Freigau was shooting the ball hard in the practice field. Holm has been troubled with a pair of bad hands and this may keep him out of the early battles.

Hornsby Only Veteran. The above batting order shows that the only real veteran is Rogers Hornsby, but Hornsby is ready to go against any kind of pitcher, right now. He was one of the first to report here and is in top condition. All the others can be termed youngsters.

"This will give me a real line on the showing of the players," asserted manager Rickey. "And there is no such thing as too much baseball for these men. It is my intention to play them as many games as possible and I probably will not trot out the veterans until the last." Rickey's decision to play Dyer in center field, probably means that the former Rice Institute player will do little pitching during the coming campaign, in spite of the fact that Bill Shandel is the only southpaw of experience owned by the team. But Dyer is a good batter, fast on his feet and has baseball brains. He is always looking around with his head up trying to pull something. McDermott has won the catchers' regalia in a regular game for the last time. Only once since the team has been practicing here has he worked behind the plate. All of his labor has been at first, and it must be said for him that he is improving daily. He has overcome his worst fault, that of forgetting to touch the bag when taking throws. He is still hitting the ball hard in the practice games, against both left and right-hand pitchers.

Manager Rickey is mighty sweet on McCurdy and is giving the former Illinois captain all the work he can stand. McCurdy is always listening when Rickey has anything to say. Runners sliding into the plate usually find it so effectively blocked by McCurdy's 185 pounds that it is next to impossible to get in. The catcher also has started to cut loose on his throws around the bases and is hitting the sphere hard.

Experimenting With Blades. Placing Blades on third base for the early battles does not mean that he will be the Cardinal far corner guard this year. Milton Stock is on hand and as he is working under a holdover contract that ends this season he will without a doubt play

Landis Puts O K On Benton; League May Not Approve

Decision of Commissioner Can Be Overruled by Vote of Club Owners.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 9.—J. C. "Rube" Benton, erstwhile American Association pitcher, again probably will be one of the hurriers for the Cincinnati National League club this season, returning to his old club after eight years, six and one-half of which he played with the New York National League team.

That was indicated yesterday when K. M. Landis, commissioner of baseball, ruled favorably to the pitcher on a controversy regarding his eligibility, attacked on the grounds that he had prior knowledge of the 1913 world series scandal. Commissioner Landis said the charges should have been made against the pitcher when the scandal became known, and not two years later. He asserted that at no time had charges of dishonest playing been filed against Benton.

The question of the pitcher's eligibility became a matter of concern to the National and American leagues when the St. Paul club announced that it had transferred him to Cincinnati.

National League owners were expected to accept Commissioner Landis' decision as final.

Shorter Flares in Deal. ST. PAUL, Minn., March 9.—Chick Shorter, outfielder, has been added to the cash consideration, and Cliff Markle, pitcher, complete the purchase price paid by Cincinnati to St. Paul for Rube Benton, pitcher, it was announced here today following word that Benton had been declared eligible to play in organized baseball again.

League Must Ratify. CINCINNATI, O., March 9.—Approval by Judge Landis of the transfer of Pitcher Rube Benton from St. Paul to the Cincinnati National League club was the occasion for this rejoicing among the Red athletes in training at Marietta, Fla., dispatches said. Manager Moran declared he felt confident the club owners of the National League, before whom the matter will go for approval, would give Benton a clean bill.

Benton was expected to arrive at the training camp Saturday, as were also Babe Pinelli and Tuncsnel, who were expected to arrive at the camp Sunday. El Paso told they were on their way.

Sisler's Bad Shoulder Causes Postponement Of Arrival at Camp

GEORGE SISLER, upon the advice of physicians, has postponed his departure for the Browns' training camp at Mobile, Ala., until the middle of next week. The injury to his right shoulder, received last September, is the cause of his delay in getting into a uniform.

"I am acting upon the advice of the doctors," said Sisler last night. "They have admonished me to postpone exercise of my right arm as long as possible. The shoulder does not in any manner give me trouble and the long rest which they are prescribing is merely a preventive measure."

By getting away from St. Louis next Wednesday or Thursday Sisler will be joining his team nearly three weeks later than the average squad of battery men. He said that he believes he will have ample time to get into shape before the start of the league season which is later this season than usual. He has lost none of his enthusiasm for the game and is anxious to reach camp at the earliest advisable moment, he said.

Ed Collins Holds Out for $17,000

Ernie Johnson Also Demands Raise in Salary From White Sox.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, March 9.—Reports of possible holdouts enlivened today's reports from the training camps of Chicago's major league baseball teams.

From Martin Springs, Tex., it was reported that the attitude of Eddie Collins here all the indications of the stellar second baseman hesitating about signing his contract for the first time in his long career.

Collins was said to have demanded an increase of $2000 a year over the $15,000 a year contract he is understood to have held with the Chicago Americans for the last eight years.

Ernie Johnson, shortstop, also was said to be a holdout. He was an additional $1500 per annum.

Chilly at Hot Springs.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 9.—A scene of a sun which promised to drive the chill from the air greeted members of the Boston Red Sox and Pittsburgh Pirates' pitching staffs early today when those huskies turned out in big sweaters or macinaws and began their morning workout on adjoining training fields.

Both Chance of the Sox and McKinnis, skipper of the Pirates crew, are insisting on hammering up their respective moundmen.

Red Russell, who formerly served a term as "fence buster" in the American League, arrived yesterday.

NEW ORLEANS, March 9.—"Babe" Rabinowitz was declared ineligible to be in great shape by the T. L. Hunter, manager of the New York Yankees, not withstanding his recent attack of "flu" at Hot Springs.

"Babe" will take three days for a few days before he is fit to play, and he will be out of the Yankees' lineup for a while.

Wall Street News and Comment —SPECIAL DAILY—

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 9.—The final results of today's operations on the Stock Exchange were rather inconclusive. Final changes were a mixture of gains and losses, with most stocks leaving off within a fraction of their Thursday close.

International Harvester broke sharply on the annual report showing a balance of only $1.35 per share earned on the common in 1932 and this after a heavy deficit the year before.

Fresh buying came into some of the oil shares in the late afternoon, but without much response to the other quarters. Steel shares had been strong in the forenoon under the lead of United States Steel common, but interest in this group came to an end. Neither copper nor zinc stocks did anything nor rails.

In the last hour prices came down rather generally, many of the leaders losing all or nearly all their early advance. Weakness developed in the Pierce-Farrell stock. On the other hand, heavy buying continued in Corden and slightly above its previous high of 62. Hupp Motors stood up the best among the motors. The advance in Allied Chemicals was higher.

The Bond Market.

Bond quotations on the average were a trifle higher today. One reason for the heaviness is doubtless competition of new issues for which there is a better market just now than for the old. Certainly the weekly statement of the Federal Reserve system affords no basis for predicting any further rise in the rate.

Among the bonds, fractionally higher today were Northern Pacific 4s, Union Pacific refunding 4s, Chesapeake & Ohio general 4 1/2s, and Illinois Central refunding 4s. On the other hand, interest was not so good in the course of Hudson & Manhattan refunding 4s, which were so weak yesterday, going down to a new low for the year.

Railroad issues in general moved very irregularly. The Seaboard refunding 4s and 6s were reactionary. Erie general 4s declined fractionally. Among the high-grade issues to show losses were Union Pacific first 4s, Oregon-Washington Railway and Navigation first 4s, Central Pacific first 4s and Denver & Rio Grande 4s. Baltimore & Ohio 4s, on the other hand, gained. It was evident that no trend could be discovered from the day's net changes.

Liberty was very quiet but slightly higher, probably the fact the Government's intention to refund nearby maturities are now officially known, helped to strengthen the list.

"COOKED-UP" NEWS CHARGE EXPLAINEDCordell Hull Says He Referred to Exaggerated Statements of the Republicans.Post-Dispatch Bureau, 20 Wyatt Building.WASHINGTON, March 2.—Chairman Cordell Hull of the Democratic National Committee has no quarrel, generally speaking, with the newspapers, but he believes that some "special writers," in an apparent effort to ingratiate themselves with the Harding administration, are giving the Republican party better than an even break in their "interpretative" articles.The fault, as he sees it, lies not so much in glorification of Republican accomplishments as in failure to present the Democratic side of the case. Hull's complaint came out in the course of remarks about "cooked-up news propaganda," in behalf of the Republican administration.

Explains Recent Statement.

He had been asked to explain just what he meant when he used that phrase in a recent formal statement on the first two years of Harding."The Republicans are trying in this year of 1933 to win the election of 1924," he replied, "by the same tactics that they successfully employed in 1919 to win the election of 1920. In other words they are disseminating a propaganda of false and misleading information regarding Republican 'achievements' and the alleged 'failure' of the Democrats. They have a large publicity organization working full tilt. They are sending out their agents to every important meeting in the country. In at least one case that I know of an official who traveled over the country ostensibly on Government business was really out on a political errand."In the last presidential campaign
they were able to plant their speakers even on chautauqua circuits, under the guise of lecturers on public events. I don't know whether their activity this year has yet gone that far or not."

"Cooked-Up News" Charge.

In charging "cooked-up" news propaganda, Hull said that he had in mind grossly exaggerated statements that the Republicans were circulating about such matters as the arms conference, the British debt settlement and the budget.He declared that the Republicans in telling of the conference omitted mention of the "price" America paid in surrendering her right to fortify her possessions west of Hawaii, that the British debt settlement was however desirable, merely a scaling down of the obligation due America and represented no great statement of policy, and that establishment of the budget, hailed by some Republican leaders as one of the great outstanding achievements of the party, was really Democratic in conception, and was sidetracked by the Republicans till they could claim credit for it."EXCHANGE CLUB WOULD EXTEND

THE WOMAN OF IT

By Marguerite Mooers Marshall.

(Copyright, 1923.)

WHY are reformers? We are given a "news lead" on an old question by recent episodes in the life and letters of William H. Anderson, New York State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League; at least, the life is Mr. Anderson's, if the letters bear the signature of his counsel, Edgar T. Brackett.

We are not going to be unfair enough to prejudice Mr. Anderson before the grand jury gets him—if it ever does. Not for $24,700 would we assert that he is less than 100 per cent pure—or perhaps 99 44-100 per cent, the extreme limit of chemical rectitude for most of the children of men. As a matter of fact, on the one occasion when we met Mr. Anderson we couldn't help liking him, despite our violent disagreement with everything for which he stood. (And now, according to his enemies, he "stood" for much more than we guessed.) We even ventured to tell him that we were finding him almost human, and we remember his laughing confession that he couldn't succeed in living up to his caricatures. Also, when we voiced the plaint of hostesses who say they can't give dry dinners, he commented, with obvious point: "The hostesses in this vicinity have never even tried!" Yet a sense of humor may not save Mr. Anderson from being a new illustration of an old truth:

Whom the gods would destroy they first make reformers.

Perhaps the original reformer was the little girl who had a little curl, and "when she was good she was very, very good; when she was bad she was horrid." Maybe she grew up and became—oh, well, it would be unkind to mention the names of certain feminine uplifters who could be, and were, "horrid" on occasion, as all of us except their blindest followers know. It seems to us that common, ordinary goodness, mixed with common ordinary meanness, is a far safer combination for the possessor than the extraordinary excellence of the typical reformer. The general if unregenerate suspicion of that person, the feeling that "there's something underneath," may be traced to popular observation of the well-known pendulum and its habit of swinging as far one way as it does the other.

That isn't the only reason why we wonder as to the necessity for the existence of reformers. They are arrogant and they talk too much. They seem to think that they can copyright virtue. As to the so-called Christian virtues we do not pretend to be an authority, but we do know that among them is listed Christian humility. No reformer whom we ever met seemed to have heard of it, much less know anything about it from practical experience.

As to the loquacity of the truly pure the Sage of Concord must have the last word on that.

"Reformers," said Emerson, "affect one as the insane do. . . . They are a buzz in the ear."

When we commented on the change in styles of women's dress caused indirectly by the resurrection of the late King Tutankhamen and directly by the determination of the 1923 vamps to return to original sources and be a Serpent of Old Nile, we forgot that fashionable clothes—indeed, clothes of any sort—were, shall we say, immaterial to the first Nile Serpent, Cleopatra.

For we read in North's Plutarch the description of what is perhaps the most famous vamping expedition in history—Cleopatra's journey on her barge down the River Cydnus to meet Mark Antony:

"So she furnished herself with a world of gifts, store of gold and silver and of riches and other sumptuous ornaments, as is credible enough she might bring from a great house, and from so wealthy and rich a realm as Egypt was. But yet she carried nothing with her wherein she trusted more than in herself, and in the charms and enhancements of her passing beauty and grace. . . . And now for the person of herself, she was laid under a pavilion of cloth of gold tissue, appareled and attired like the goddess Venus, commonly drawn in picture."

Cleopatra's slogan evidently was: "Beauty unadorned is adorned the most." There is no record that Antony thought otherwise.

She HAD clothes, of course. They are mentioned in Shakespeare's description of what must have been one of those nights on the Nile. Cleopatra tells it:

"That time—O times—
I laugh'd him out of patience; and that night
I laugh'd him into patience; and next morn'
I set the ninth hour, I drunk him to his bed;
Then, put my tires and mantles on him, whilst I wore his sword Philipian."

While our interest is aroused in all that Lord Carnarvon and his men are digging out of Tutankhamen's tomb, we might find Egyptian treasures of our own no further away than the bookcase containing Shakespeare's "Antony and Cleopatra." There is no more gorgeous love making in print than that of a pair who "kiss'd away kingdoms and provinces."

Antony's wall motto, as set down by Shakespeare, might be that of any modern young person of either sex: "Be a child of the time."

Never mind, the modern flapper has her points. She may, and does, talk about her newest brand of monogrammed cigarettes as "the bees' ankles," "the ducks' dimples," or "the fish's footprints." But she doesn't talk any particular brand of disingenuous idiosyncrasy which sometimes distinguished the college girl of yesterday.

"I wish you'd give the flapper a cheer, sometimes, instead of a jeer," writes "Hollow Horn Bear." "I've been for her ever since I realized that she is honest enough to admit the apples berries instead of pretending to sear above them, as did the New Girl of the last generation."

"It was 30 years ago on the apple tree-covered hill back of Poughkeepsie, O. Henry once described one of his Sagwa Indian peddling persons as a 'red man who never let a cigar store sneak up behind him.' That wasn't me. I had gone to sleep in a clump of brush back of the orchard. And I waked up when I heard a deep, central, crying to a fluttering throng of Vassar femininity down on the knoll below me."

"And after all—what are men? Nothing! Nothing! They are the misters beyond the dawn—and we care not for them!"

We hope Vassar is 30 years wiser, as well as older, and doesn't feel that way about it now.

Speaking, as most of its critics are, of the degeneracy of the younger generation, who about 15-year-old Tony Scamper? When Tony stood on a hot stove the other day and plugged the broken end of a gas pipe with his finger, did he not present a dauntless, composite picture of two of the most famous young heroes of song and story? Here Are Cakes That Cost Little Yet Are Delicious

By Jeannette Young Norton

CAKES that can be made without eggs were a feature of wartime cookery, but they were promptly forgotten as soon as the necessity for their use passed. Yet these cakes are good to know about in case of emergency, when the latter happens to be minus a single egg.

A cold-water cake may also prove a "life-saver" when the milk has given out and a cake must be made. These simple economical cakes will be found good, though not rich!

Eggless Cake.

Cream together a quarter of a cupful of butter and three-quarters of a cupful of brown sugar. Add a cupful of milk and sift in a cupful and a half of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a saltspoonful of salt, a half-teaspoonful each of cinnamon and nutmeg, and a quarter cupful of seed raisins chopped fine and dusted with flour. Beat this mixture well, then add a teaspoonful of vanilla flavoring, turn it into a buttered pan and bake it from 20 to 40 minutes, according to the heat of the oven.

Cold-Water Cake.

Cream together a full quarter cupful of butter and a cupful and a half of sugar. Add two eggs and one cupful of water. Sift in two and a half cupfuls of flour with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a half-saltspoonful of salt. Beat this batter well and add a teaspoonful of vanilla flavoring. Turn the cake into a buttered pan and bake it from 20 to 40 minutes, trying it with a broom splint.

One, Two, Three, Four Cake.

Cream together one cupful of butter and two cupfuls of sugar. Beat in the yolks of four eggs and add three-quarters of a cupful of milk. Sift in three small cupfuls of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a half-saltspoonful of salt and a teaspoonful of vanilla. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Pour the dough into a buttered pan and bake. If it is baked in patty pans, 12 minutes should cook it. If in layers, 15 minutes are usually enough, in a brisk, steady oven.

Quick Date Cake.

Cream together a quarter cupful of soft butter and a cupful of brown sugar. Add two eggs and a half-cupful of milk. Sift in a cupful and a quarter of flour with three teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a half-saltspoonful of salt. Add a tablespoonful of ginger, a teaspoonful of mixed spice and a half-pound of stoned and coarsely chopped dates. Beat all these ingredients well, then turn them into a buttered and lightly floured square pan and bake them from 30 to 35 minutes. This cake may be frosted or cut in squares and served hot with a marshmallow or flavored whipped cream sauce.

Crackling Cakes.

These cakes are made of the crispings left after lard has been tried out for family use—old-fashioned they are, but good for a change. And there are still some women who make their own lard. Then the lard has been strained off from two pounds of leaf fat, put the cracklings into a mixing bowl and mash them with a fork. Add one and a half pounds of flour, a quarter of a pound of light brown, soft sugar, a quarter pound each of washed currants and seeded and chopped raisins, a teaspoonful of mixed, ground spice, and a tablespoonful of chopped, candied peel. Then add a little cold water and mix the ingredients to a rolling dough. Roll the paste on a floured board a quarter inch thick, and cut it in rounds or fancy shapes. Bake these cakes in a light-colored pan about 15 minutes, according to the oven. Dust them with powdered sugar while they are warm.

PRUNE PUDDING

ONE-HALF cup of sugar, yolk of an egg, one tablespoon cornstarch, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon vanilla, one pint milk, one-half pound prunes. Mix all ingredients. Put the prunes cold in the double boiler and cook, stirring constantly, covered and seeded, and put in baking dish. Pour the pudding over them. Make a meringue of the egg white and a tablespoon of powdered sugar and put into the oven to brown. More eggs can be used if desired.

Cocoa or melted chocolate may be added to the cornstarch mixture. A French touch is the addition of a small amount of cinnamon added when chocolate is used.

JAM TURNOVERS

CUT rich pastry into circles with a saucer and put a spoonful of jam (or preserves) in one half, turning the edges well together with the finger tips. Prick top with a fork to let out the steam. Brush with milk before putting into a moderate oven.

RUBY ALLISON, her gay and frivolous friend.

ALEC KERR, Ruby's fiancé.

QUENTIN GRAY, an artist, friend of Ruby.

MURRAY STEWART, for whom Cynthia is working as a stenographer.

MRS. WAKELAND, friend and rich client of Stewart, who takes a fancy to Cynthia.

VIOLET JERROLD, friend of Murray's.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT.

RETURNED to Mrs. Wakeland's drawing room, there was a radiance on the face of Cynthia that her sympathetic hostess was quick to see—and understand.

"Bless the child! She's fallen in love, all right!" was that lady's thought, followed by a fervent hope that the course of true love might run smoother in the young girl's case than it ever had done in her own! He's a charming, fascinating fellow, and I hope he'll be good to her for, alas! even the nicest of men are apt to be a bit spoiled and selfish these days!"

Her own experience, although it had failed to embitter her, tended to make her rather cynical, though—like every true woman—deep down in her heart she adored romance. The little Count had ceased his singing, for the moment, and—catching sight of Cynthia, to whom, in his volatile way, he had been attracted from the moment that his restless and appreciative eyes first glimpsed her—moved over toward her, placed a chair for her, and seated himself at her feet on a sort of glorified footstool, known as a pouffe.

"Miss Brant, you will come next Sunday morning to my party! I have asked that Madame Wakeland bring you, and she said yes." The flashing Italian eyes were turned on her with a frankly admiring gaze.

"I—I go to church on Sunday mornings." "He flung out his hands with a nonchalant gesture.

"But it sees for those who go to church I give my parties. After morning service they come to my salon and I give them coffee—lovely Turkish coffee, and China tea, and Turkish delight—and other refreshments—and they see the pictures that I paint—and talk and talk and talk."

"You are very kind," said Cynthia, smiling, wondering what she ought to say. "It sees my friends who are so kind," rejoined the little Count, with sparkling eyes. "They come—so many of them—50, 100, at first so stiff, but then I introduce them and amuse them, and they lose their shyness and are happy." The young girl laughed outright. The Italian was as native as a child.

At that moment someone turned on the gramophone, and the little man, forgetting his admiration for Cynthia in this new absorption, leaped to his feet, and clapped his hands.

"It sees the tango! I will dance

TWO EVENING GOWNS AND A SW

Consultant Moralists

By WINIFRED BLACK

D. WALTER B. PITKIN, associate professor of philosophy of Columbia University, says that domestic triangles will be solved 193 years from now by "consultant moralists," who will tell people what the matter with them and how to get over it.

Consultant moralists will be persons educated for the job.

They will go out and collect data, add the data and subtract it, multiply the data and divide it and fix everything—just as easy!

For instance, if a steady, sober, middle-aged man falls in love with a flirty little ruffian of 17 and begins to neglect his wife and forget his children—will Mrs. Middle-age cry and scold and perhaps try to commit suicide?

Not in the good year 2023, says Dr. Pitkin.

Not she. She will call in consultant moralists and tell them all about it, and the consultant moralists will traipse all over the neighborhood and collect data on husband and on wife and on Miss Fluffy Ruffles.

They'll go further than that. They'll collect data on husband's father and mother, and on wife's grandfather and grandmother—and as for Fluffy Ruffles, they'll insist upon knowing all about everyone she ever heard of from the day she was born.

Sounds Simple, Doesn't It?

They'll talk to the family doctor and the family nurse, and the family teacher and the family cook, and the family friend—won't they have a perfectly elegant time collecting data?

And when it is all collected they will call the three victims together and tell them about it.

And if they think husband and Fluffy Ruffles might be happier together than husband and wife, sing hey for a divorce, and the merry separation bells! But if they think that Fluffy Ruffles is really not by nature and heredity and training fitted to be a proper and happy wife for husband, they will tell her so. And they'll send husband and wife home as happy as larks and make Fluffy try to find a husband of her own.

How simple it all is—when you talk about it.

I wonder just how hard Fluffy and husband will listen, when the consultant moralists begin to tell them what's what!

Who'll Direct the Consultants?

And will it ease the ache in wife's heart to know that husband is coming back to her because the consultant moralists told him he really must—don't you know for the sake of the community—and the consultant moralists?

Well, I don't think I shall be here in 2023, but if I am, I am going to pull all the wires I can to be made a consultant moralist.

Wouldn't it be fun to tell every-

NOT IN A TAKING WAY.

AN elderly gentleman of Celtic antecedents didn't feel just right. He decided that possibly something was wrong with him. He went to a physician and described his symptoms.

"How many drinks do you take in the course of a day?" inquired the practitioner.

"Oh, maybe 18 or 20, sometimes more, sometimes less. Generally more—if I kin git thim."

"How many cigars?"

"Oh, maybe 10 or 15, and a few pipes full of tobacco before goin' to bed."

"Well, what time do you go to bed?"

"Niver before 2 o'clock in the mawnin'."

"I don't think you need medicine for what ails you," said the doctor. "What you need is something else. You will cut out drinking entirely. Smoke one cigar after each meal and a pipe before you go to bed. And be in bed by 9 o'clock every night."

Without a word the patient arose, reached for his hat and started to leave the room.

"By the way, haven't you forgotten something?" asked the medical man.

"I think not. I didn't bring me umbrella wid me. What wud I be forgetting?"

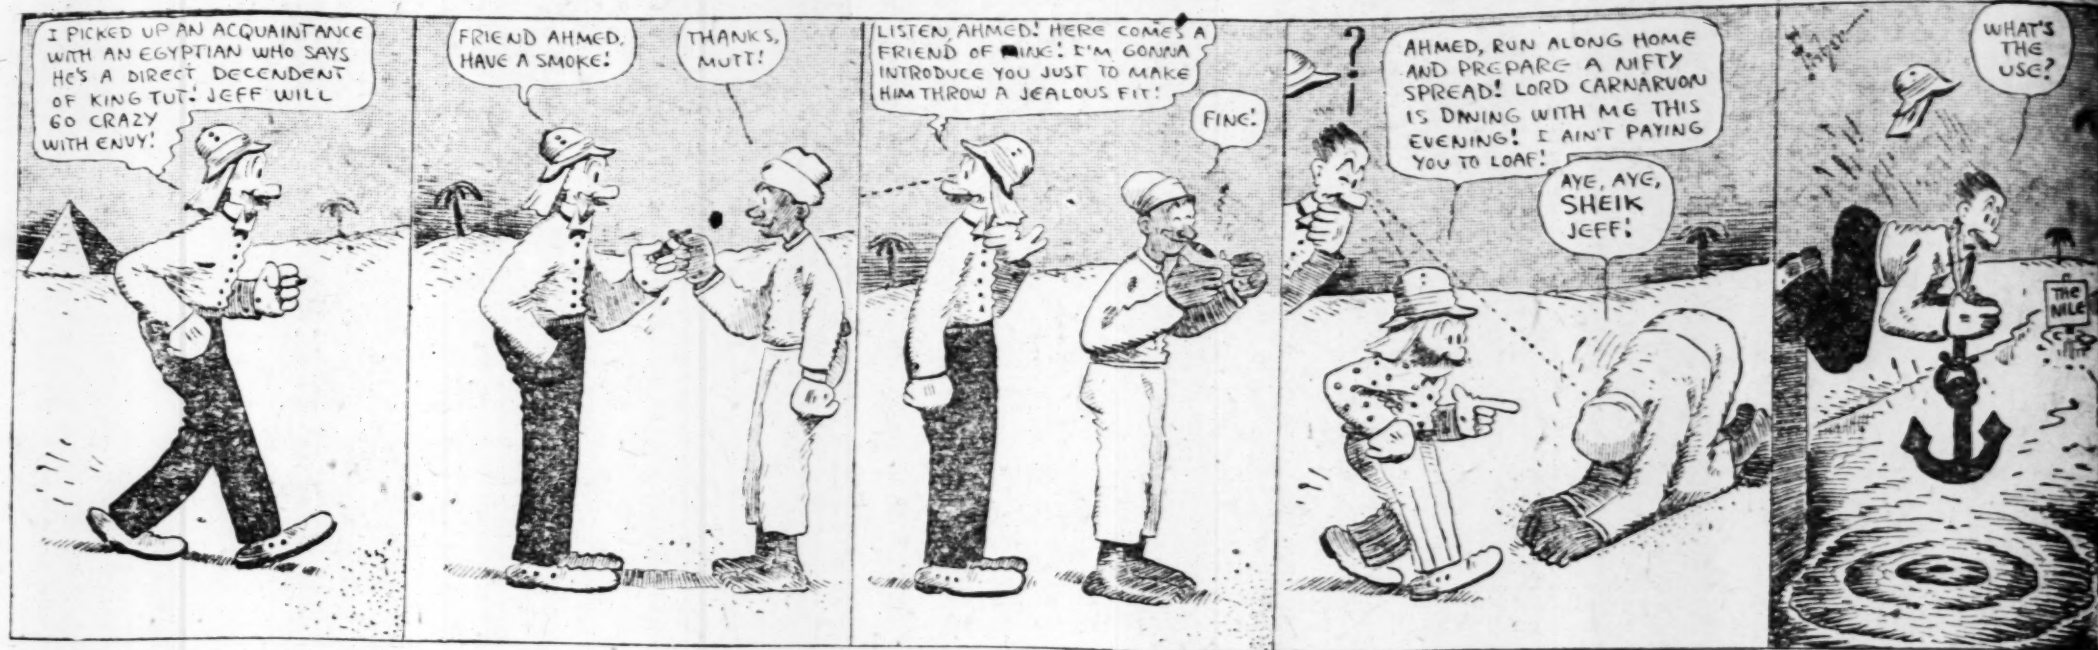

"Payment for my advice."

REPUBLICAN SLATE WINS IN PRIMARY WITH ONE EXCEPTION

Walter J. G. Neun, Chairman of Committee, Nominated for Presidency of Board of Aldermen Over Oliver T. Remmers by Vote of 19,900 to 7798.

KRUEGER THE ONLY VICTOR OVER MACHIN

Lack of Interest in Campaign Reflected in Light Vote Which Is Not Expected to Exceed 35,000.

The aldermanic primary election yesterday resulted in nomination of the Republican organization slate with the exception of the Twelfth Ward. Election of the Republican nominees in the election April 3 virtually is assured, due to predominance of the Republican party in the city.

Lack of interest in the short campaign was reflected in the very light vote, which is not expected to exceed 35,000 on the final official count. This is slightly less than 14 per cent of the registration of 257,292. Democratic and American Labor nominations were not contested, but 11 of the public nominees had opposition.

The Republican Nominees.

The Republican nominees are:

President of the Board of Aldermen—Walter J. G. Neun.

For Aldermen:

Second Ward, Dr. Edward F. Re-

dall.

Fourth Ward, William F. Otto,

Incumbent.

Sixth Ward, Louis A. Lange,

Incumbent.

Eighth Ward, Edward Hirth,

Incumbent.

Tenth Ward, George Meisinger,

Incumbent.

Twelfth Ward, Charles A. Ne-

mann, Incumbent.

Fourteenth Ward, Gus A. Ba-

incumbent.

Sixteenth Ward, Adam Reis,

Incumbent.

Eighteenth Ward, Alfred Be-

mann, Incumbent.

Twentieth Ward, Wilbur

Schwartz, Incumbent.

Twenty-second Ward, Herman

Kralemann, Incumbent.

Twenty-fourth Ward, Chauncey

Krueger, Incumbent.

Twenty-sixth Ward, Ralph H.

ets, Incumbent.

Twenty-eighth Ward, John

Brod Jr.

The primary involved only can-

dates for presidency of the board for Aldermen from the 14 even nu-bered wards. Aldermen from the odd numbered wards hold over years longer.

High Republican Vote.

The high Republican vote was 52, cast for candidates for presidency of the board. The vote

Democratic and American Labor candidates was not compiled

last night, as they were unopposed.

Vote on the two tickets is estimated at about 5000.

Interest centered chiefly in contest for nomination for presidency of the board, due to an action made by Oliver T. Remmers attorney for Anheuser-Busch, Inc.

who was the nonorganization can-date. His opponent, Neun, chairman of the Republican City Committee who had the endorsement of 27 of ward committeemen in the Republican City Committee, and an op-choice with Remmers on the slat-

in the Twelfth Ward, went over a ratio of approximately 14 to 10 received 19,900 votes, against

7798 for Remmers. Neun carried wards. Remmers carrying his ward, the Twelfth. The name of German Edward L. Kuhn appeared on the ballot as a candidate for presidency, although he had withdrawn in favor of Neun. He received 1594 votes.

Remmers expressed no surprise over his defeat, declar-
